'METER MAIDS' READY TO START PATROL

PENNANT LOSS SPEEDS MARIN WORK

Who Delayed Road Job? Giants!

By WILLIAM L. EARLE

The fortunes of the San Francisco Giants baseball team have hindered progress on Larkspur's approach road to the new Bon Air Bridge.

There appeared to be no connection at the time, but while the Giants held a flickering hope of winning the National League championship, little progress was made on the Larkspur road.

But Monday, the day after the Giants were eliminated from the pennant race, workmen were swarming around the project site installing curbs and gutters.

O. C. Jones, Berkeley contractor, began the road job. Aug. 18 after several months of frustrating delay involving relocation of utility lines. The Bon Air Bridge, intended to link Larkspur with Greenbrae, was completed many months ago.

Jones made rapid progress. By the middle of this month, his crews had completed all cut and fill work, realigned a 1,066-foot stretch of Magnolia avenue and installed all storm drains.

After construction of curbs and gutters, assigned to a subcontractor, all that remained to be done was lay base rock and pave the bridge approach road and the realigned stretch of Magnolia. Jones estimated this would take four days.

Then came new delays. The curb and gutter crews failed to appear—and Jones waited.

Meanwhile, the San Francisco Giants were staggering badly in their drive for the pennant, but they still had a mathematical chance of winning the race.

During the last 10 days of the baseball season, frantic construction activity was continuing at Candlestick Park, where the Giants hoped to engage the Chicago White Sox in the World Series.

The subcontractor for curb and gutter work on the Larkspur road project is U. Peira and Son of San Francisco. And, by coincidence, the subcon-

Terra Linda Plans Another Vote On Recreation Bonds

New Committee To Be Organized Tomorrow To Work For Issue

Another recreation bond issue election is being planned in Terra Linda.

An organizational meeting will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Hoffman School in an effort to form a new recreation committee to work for the passage of the bonds.

No date for the election has been set, but community services district president John P. Namle said today a new committee will be formed with the hope that many persons previously opposed to the bonds will join now in working for them.

Namle said directors have made no decision as to whether again to seek a $350,000 bond issue or reduce the amount by eliminating some of the proposed facilities.

"This will be a kickoff meeting," Namle said. "We hope to organize a new recreation committee working toward a new bond election. This will be the first public meeting on the matter since the defeat on the bonds."

A $350,000 bond issue was defeated by the narrow margin of 66 votes Sept. 15.

Namle said that if the new committee approves, the old plans for recreation centers will be used to salvage as much as possible from previous costs.

The district spent approximately $4,000 in architects' fees.

Water District Wins Round In Road Dispute

The state District Court of Appeals today ruled that Marin Municipal Water District has the right to condemn and relocate a county road to make way for Nicasio Dam, and that a court will determine the "final terms and conditions" of the relocated road.

The water district had brought suit against the county to condemn a four-mile stretch of the Pt. Reyes-Petaluma road and reconstruct it at a new location. Judge Wright L. Callender of Glenn County, sitting in Marin County Superior Court, ruled for the water district last March and granted it immediate possession.

COUNTY APPEALED

The county appealed, and the appellate court issued a writ annulling the order of possession until the appeal could be decided.

Late yesterday, the court of appeals handed down its decision: Another victory for the water district.

"In a situation like this," said the unanimous decision of the three-judge court, "where the vital interests of not only the people of Marin County but of the state as a whole are involved, and where it is a matter of common knowledge that generally the need for water reservoirs and facilities far outweighs the necessity for a county road to always be maintained in a particular condition," equity calls for the decision giving "the greatest good to the greatest number."

COUNTY'S STAND

Last October, while agreeing to allocate $50,000 in county funds toward the relocated road, the county insisted it be built to federal-aid secondary road standards. The water district, which will bear the major cost of about a million dollars, contended that it should not be required to build a road to

Ike Prodding Gets Steel Talks Going

Negotiations Resume On President's Plea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower won an immediate resumption of negotiations in the 78-day-old steel strike today after calling both industry and union leaders on the White House carpet.

Negotiations, which were broken off by the union last Friday, were reopened at a downtown hotel at 2:02 p.m. — within hours after the President demanded that both sides get down to serious bargaining, "and fast."

For the first time since the strike began, top executives of six steel firms met with president David J. McDonald of the striking United Steelworkers union.

But a sour note was struck even before the talks got under way. The union accused the industry of "lying" in a statement which said the companies proposed a "modest wage increase" in the second year of a proposed two-year contract.

With the strike of 500,000 steelworkers said to be threatening the defense program, Eisenhower told union and industry officials in separate conferences that he hoped an agreement could be "initiated" by Oct. 8, the day he returns from a Palm Springs vacation.

The President foreswore at least immediate use of a Taft-Hartley injunction. Instead he called for a voluntary settlement "fair and just to all parties involved," including the public.

About 160,000 workers in related industries have been laid off and factory shutdowns have increased.

NIKITA QUERY EARNS KIDS BAY CRUISE

A cruise over San Francisco Bay aboard the Gresham, the Coast Guard cutter which carried Nikita Khrushchev on his tour of the bay, will be the reward tomorrow for E Street School fifth graders who submitted a question for the Soviet premier to answer.

The fifth graders and their chaperones and teachers will be the guests of the Coast Guard and Cmdr. Benjamin P. Clark of San Rafael, skipper of the Gresham.

While aboard, the 53 pupils of two fifth grade classes will get a special turkey dinner, compliments of the Coast Guard.

Commander Clark put the question to Khrushchev for the children: "How do you live, personally?" The premier answered, "My personal life has been a happy one."

Novato-San Jose School Merger Rejected Again

The proposal to merge the San Jose and Novato school districts was defeated yesterday at the polls by 11 votes in the San Jose district.

Only 970 votes, three of them absentee ballots, were cast out of a total registration of 5,248.

Voters in the Novato district approved the measure 491 to 175, but those in the San Jose district voted 145 "yes" to 156 "no" a difference of 11 votes.

Total vote in the combined districts was 636 "yes" to 331 "no." A simple majority vote in both districts was required for passage.

The measure also lost last January. Novato district voters also approved then, but San Jose voters were against the merger.

The merger had been opposed by Alan Swabacher, chairman of the San Jose board of trustees, who asked that each district look into growth problems.

Votes by school polling places with "yes" votes first, "no" votes second, were: Novato district—Hill, 106 and 33; West Novato, 126 and 46; Marion, 101 and 37; Olive, 94 and 52, and high school, 64 and 7. San Jose district — Lynwood, 121 and 67, and Loma Verde, 24 and 89.

The absentee ballots, which will not change the outcome; have not been counted. The Marin County School Department said an official canvass of the votes will be made later.

Businessman Accused Of Embezzlement

A grand theft charge was filed in Marin today against a Corte Madera businessman with international contracts, who is suspected of using $10,000 in company funds for his own personal benefit.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety, who filed the complaint, identified the suspect as Irving Penrose Betts, who became 60 years old on Monday. Until last week, Betts had lived temporarily at 40 Alta way in Corte Madera, the home of his former wife, Theresa Doherty.

Betts is accused of grand theft from Frank W. Lynch, owner of Electrowave Filter Co. at Ceiba, Puerto Rico, about 40 miles from San Juan. Lynch and his lawyer, Edward R. Fitzsimmons of San Mateo, contend that Lynch signed some blank checks and gave them to his associate, Betts, for use in the company's business.

According to Lynch, Betts cashed one of the checks for $10,000 and opened a savings account at the American Trust

Nurse Appeal To Follow Usual Course

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday voted to let the appeal for hearing on the dismissal of county nurse Laura D. Sypin proceed with the personnel commission and then be appealed to the supervisors later if necessary.

Chairman Walter R. Castro said he wanted to hear the whole story on the matter, and expressed a desire for a special hearing by the board. But the others voted to let the matter go through regular procedure first.

John P. O'Connell of San Anselmo, attorney for Miss Sypin, said an appeal to the personnel commission for an open hearing would be filed today.

"After the appeal is filed the personnel commission will have 20 days in which to set the date for the open hearing," he said. "Naturally we will fight all the charges."

Bar Owner Beaten In Parking Row

A Sausalito tavern owner was beaten last night in what police said was a row over use of a parking lot.

Sausalito police were called at 8 p.m. by a bartender at the Bridgeway Inn, 621 Bridgeway, who reported a fight in the adjacent parking lot.

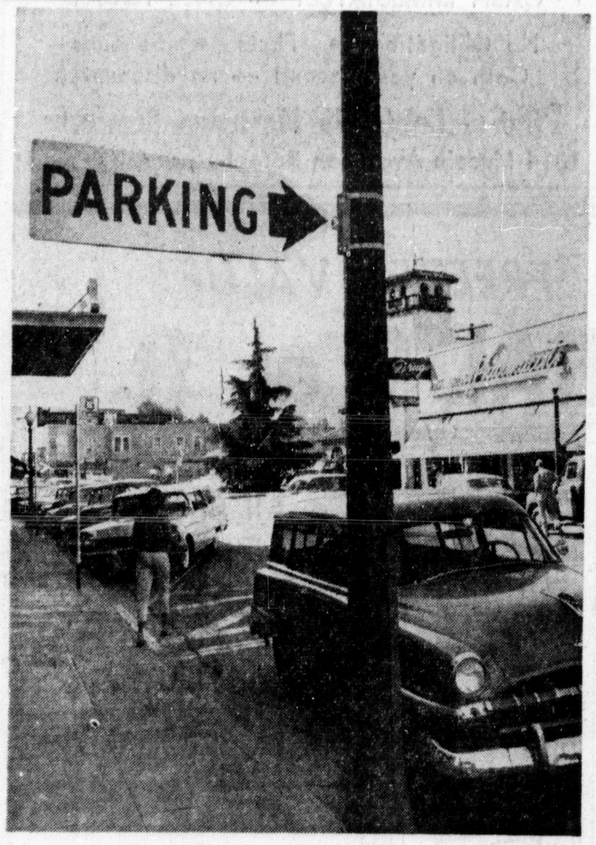
Hill said he went into the parking lot to get his car and was accosted by a man who demanded, "Where's the 50 cents for parking?"

When he refused payment, Hill said, three men leaped upon him and beat him.

At Marin General Hospital, where he was taken for treatment of the cuts and an ankle injury, Hill said he was beaten by seven men.

Subsequently, he told Police Chief Howard Goerndt the number was five.

Goerndt said that ever since Hill opened his place, more than a year ago, there had been bad blood between him and adjacent store owners as to who had rights to use of the adjacent parking lot. Goerndt said there is apparently a dispute over ownership or a lease on its use.



NEARLY EVERYONE IS SHOPPING—Except for the one or two people you can see on San Anselmo avenue, nearly everyone else in San Anselmo is busy readying his shopping list. Hub city residents know the bargains will fall like goodies from a horn of plenty tomorrow, Friday and Saturday during San Anselmo Bargain Days. And that big sign was photographed on purpose: San Anselmo wants you to know there's plenty of parking, and no parking meters.

San Anselmo Readies Big Sales Event

Tomorrow is S-day.

And just so you won't have to stay up late to figure out what that means, here's an explanation:

For tomorrow is the first of three days of big sales in San Anselmo—the first of three days of bargains.

On Friday night stores will be open until 9 p.m., and longer if the demand is great enough. And another thing—there are no parking meters in San Anselmo. There are lots and lots of parking spaces.

34 Die As Airliner Explodes In Air, Crashes In Texas

WACO, Tex. (AP)—A big Houston-to-New York airliner blew up in the air, streaked across the sky like a comet and crashed late last night. Thirty-four persons died as it struck on a central Texas farm.

The ship was a 75-passenger Braniff Airways turboprop Electra. It carried 27 passengers and seven crew members.

State police said none survived. Broken bodies and bits of wreckage were scattered over a square mile of open farm country.

Although witnesses from a distance observed a second blast and brilliant flash as the ship struck, persons reaching the scene reported the shattered craft did not burn.

"It looked like it exploded as it came over our house, way up in the sky," related Mrs. Billy Webb, 30. She and her husband watched from their home five miles north of where the wreckage hit.

"The whole sky lit up. It kept on going, and it looked like a falling star."

A member of the traffic control tower staff at Houston's big International Airport said the airliner departed 29 minutes behind schedule at 10:44 p.m. It was due to land in Dallas and Washington en route to New York.

Bruce Chambers of the Federal Aviation Agency's control office in Fort Worth said the ship was flying on an instrument plan at 15,000 feet. It made its last report about 11:05 p.m. when the ship was 40 miles east of Waco, Chambers said. He described the report as routine filing of information and speed and altitude of the plane.

Chambers said the pilot gave no indication of trouble at the time.

Strike May Affect Vote In Britain

LONDON (UPI)—A wildcat strike which could idle 250,000 workers by the weekend gave concern today to Labor Party chiefs because of its possible effects on next week's general election.

Nineteen of the British Oxygen Co.'s 52 plants were shut down by a wildcat walkout of 2,000 men yesterday. It had immediate repercussions because companies which use oxygen for welding store only small supplies for safety's sake.

Employers in the Labor-strong Midlands promptly laid off 20,000 men and another 20,000 were warned to expect dismissal by tonight.

Employers estimated that a continued shortage of oxygen could cause a quarter of a million automobile workers, engineers and shipbuilding workers to be laid off by the weekend, five days before the Oct. 8 election.

Both the Trade Union Congress and Labor Party leaders acted quickly to disassociate themselves from the strike.

AFTERMATH OF TRAGEDY—Twisted wreckage testifies to the violence of head-on collision of school bus and big truck near Cooper, Tex., last night in which eight persons were killed and 22 injured. (AP Wirephoto)

School Bus, Truck Hit Head-On; 8 Die, 22 Hurt

COOPER, Tex. (AP)—A bus filled with school children and teachers en route toa junior high school football game collided head-on last night with a huge tank truck. The violent crash killed eight persons—six students and two teachers—and injured 22 others including 21 children.

The bus from Mt. Vernon, Tex., and the diesel truck collided at a highway intersection on the easttern edge of this east Texas town. There was no fire. The impact hurled some children to the highway, demolished the bus and smashed the truck's cab.

"The bus made a signal to turn left and then for some reason swerved. I just couldn't miss him. It was horrible," said J. M. Warrington, 39, of Grand Saline, Tex., the truck driver.

Warrington was injured and taken to a Paris, Tex., hospital. He was en route home from Pryor, Tex., where he had delivered a load of salt.

Killed in the crash were Jack Henry, 45 principal of the Mt. Vernon Junior High School and driver of the bus; his son, Billy Max, 12; Melba Meeks, a teacher; Kenneth Hightower, 12, and Rex Weatherford, 12. Three other students, Zach Taylor, Audrey Sue Turner, 13; and Waukita Rainey, a sixth-grader, died from their injuries.

Japan Typhoon Death Toll Exceeds 3,000

TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Vera today was classed officially as the worst storm disaster in Japan's history.

The official toll of known dead reached 3,174. The previous high—3,066 killed—was recorded after Typhoon Muroto in 1934.

In addition, 1,776 persons are still missing, and police said all casualty figures might be increased when full communications are restored with devastated areas.

So far, 9,419 injured have been reported. They included three Americans, the only U.S. casualties reported.

Damage estimates so far have reached 261 million dollars and are still climbing. Vast areas of crops were ruined. Sea walls were breached, rivers flooded from the torrential rains, ships, beached, houses smashed and communications seriously damaged.

Nagoya, Japan's third largest city, was left in wreckage. Officials there feared outbreaks of dysentery and typhoid and appealed for more medicine, doctors and nurses. There was a serious food shortage.

Flood Peril Posed By Eastern Storm

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—Tropical storm Gracie, no longer a hurricane, plodded slowly across western North Carolina today. While her winds had diminished to gusty squalls with a top of 50 miles an hour, her heavy rains threatened dangerous flooding.

At 8 a.m., the storm center was situated near Hickory, N. C., some 50 miles northwest of Charlotte. Her path was northward at about 12 miles an hour, but she appeared turning more northeastward and was expected to pick up forward speed as she moves across Virginia this afternoon and early tonight.

Gracie's heavy rain was expected to cause flash flooding in western North Carolina, central and western Virginia, the eastern portion of West Virginia, western Maryland and central and eastern Pennsylvania.

The storm now packs winds of about 40 miles per hour, with gusts to about 50 miles per hour in some squalls.

She brought rain, raging winds and high water all along the coast from Savannah, Ga., to Myrtle Beach, and swept inland to slash lowland communities along a patch 100 miles wide.

Three died in South Carolina in traffic accidents attributable to the storm.

At Miami Beach, Fla., a 15-foot wave rolling in from Gracie's wake swept over a jetty last night and carried a married couple into the water.

The precision control of Wide-Track Wheel Design!
The softer ride of supple suspension!
The wide choice of vigorous Tempest V-8 Engines tailored to economy or high performance!

The car craftsmen who developed Wide-Track Wheels, the innovation that brought a new standard of roadability to the American passenger car, present another fresh original for 1960!

Into the proved principle of Wide-Track (wheels farther apart for a steadier stance) they've engineered an ingeniously improved suspension system. This combination of a firm foundation and supple suspension gives you flawless control, more skill in the fine art of driving, smooth stability, bump-yielding softness.

The power plant is typically Pontiac. A wide range of restless, ground-gaining power packages to choose from. All are husky V-8's, ranging from the frugal 425E economy engine that prefers regular grade gasoline to the fiery Tempest 425.

Haven't you been an admiring spectator of Pontiacs long enough? Isn't this your year to become a participant in Pontiac pleasure, to move up to Pontiac ownership, where the enjoyment is the fullest, where the point of view is the freshest?

Wide-Track Wheels give you swayless stability, solid comfort. You maneuver with skillful sureness, accurate control. It's the sweetest, most precise, most rewarding driving you've ever felt.

'Torchy' Named For Marin's Crusade Drive

Molly was named today as torch bearer for the hundreds of volunteers who this week start taking the crusade appeal to the public in behalf of 18 youth and welfare agencies in Marin and more than 200 others throughout the Bay Area.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Donlan of 2219 Fifth avenue, San Rafael, Molly is a third grade pupil at St. Raphael's School. She is a Girl Scout.

Her father is employed in the electrical division of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and has served as a chapter chairman within the firm in past United Crusade campaigns. Mrs. Donlan is a nurse at San Rafael General Hospital. Molly has a brother, Pat Jr., who is a freshman at Marin Catholic High School.

TAXI DANCER WHO LOOKS LIKE DEBBIE—IS

For Debbie, it was disclosed today, has been leading the life of a Broadway taxi dancer in the last two nights, dancing with any male in exchange for a dance ticket, sold in blocks of 10 for a dollar.

Even the other girls at the Majestic Danceland on Broadway were unaware that a Hollywood star had joined their ranks. Several of the girls commented on meeting Debbie on the "resemblance" but otherwise accepted her as merely "one of the girls," according to the Danceland manager, the only one in on the secret.

Paramount Pictures, Debbie's employer, had arranged for her to spend two nights to "soak up atmosphere" for her role in the film, "Rat Race," part of which is being filmed in New York City.

Bee Blamed For Crash Injuring Two

A bee was blamed for an automobile accident which sent two Terra Linda teen-agers to the hospital and totally wrecked a 1959 sedan yesterday.

Gerald Geurin Jr., 16, of 611 Thornwood terrace, the driver, and Joan Minter, 13, of 674 Tarragon drive, were taken by United Ambulance to Marin General Hospital after the accident at 5 p.m.

The Guerin car, owned by Gerald's parents, went out of control and hit a concrete post just west of Whitewood drive on Las Colindas drive.

Gerald suffered fractures of the right wrist and left ankle and cuts on his lips. Joan's knees and nose were bruised and she was cut on her scalp. Both were still in the hospital today.

Gerald told the California Highway Patrol he was driving at about 25 miles an hour when a bee flew into the car. It landed on Joan and she became frightened. He took his eyes off the road and when he looked up again he saw the car turning toward the pole. He hit the brakes and the car turned over.

Gerald's father is an employee of a canning company in San Francisco, and Joan's mother works in the administrative department of Marin General Hospital.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed lower today after rails turned mixed and some industrials took sharp losses. Trading was moderate.

Volume for the day was estimated at 2,700,000 shares compared with 3,220,000 yesterday.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point prevailed among most pivotal stocks while rail shares posted gains running to more than a point.

Studebaker-Packard was clipped for a profit taking a loss of around a point. Chrysler eliminated yesterday's rise of one and five-eighths. General Motors lost around a point.

Gains of well over a point were held by New York Central and Northern Pacific. Illinois Central, Chesapeake and Ohio and Seaboard were up about a point.

U.S. Steel and Lukens were down about two points each in late trading while Jones and Laughlin dropped more than a point.

Death Row Convict's Court Victory Appealed

Rayna Tom Carmen, the Mono Indian who has been on San Quentin Prison's Death Row since November, 1951, apparently must remain there at least through this winter in spite of a legal victory yesterday in San Francisco.

Although the U.S. Court of Appeals yesterday upheld a decision ordering release, California's Deputy Atty. Gen. Arlo E. Smith promptly gave notice of appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, which is expected to deal with the case in its term next spring.

Carmen, now 48, was convicted in June, 1950, of shooting to death another Mono Indian, 16-year-old Wilbur Dan McSwain, after an argument outside a dance hall near Madera.

Yesterday's decision upheld the view of U.S. District Court Judge Louis E. Goodman last September that Carmen should have been tried in a federal rather than a state court because "the crime was committed on land which was at the time allotted to Indians from the public domain and held in trust for the Indians by the federal government." The shooting was on federally owned homestead property.

Smith said the state's appeal to the supreme tribunal is based on the contention that homestead property is not the same as Indian territory and is subject to state jurisdiction.

Though the latest decision would ordinarily call for Carmen's release from Death Row, Walter D. Achuff, associate warden at San Quentin, said today that where an appeal is made the status of the prisoner remains unchanged until the appeal has been disposed of.

Prisoners on the Row are strictly confined in their cells except for three hours a day, from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., when they may exercise or watch television in the runway in front of their cells. They have no contact with other prisoners. Radio is provided in their cells but the quarters aren't regarded as luxurious.

Drake Students Named Officers

Eight Sir Francis Drake High School students were named to fill the vacancies from last spring's election.

Hostess Has Guest Jailed After Heated Altercation

Mrs. Elizabeth Marie Perettie of Sacramento, 36-year-old employee of the California Youth Authority, was arrested by Corte Madera police last night on a citizen warrant charging assault, battery and disturbing the peace.

Police Chief Frank L. Nelson said the warrant was signed by Mrs. Gwendolyn Martin, 36, who summoned officers to her home at 16 Portola way after a heated argument with Mrs. Perettie.

Nelson said both women are former employees of Marin County Juvenile Hall.

The report of Sgt. David McIntosh and Officer Charles Newman said Mrs. Martin accused Mrs. Perettie of threatening to kill her and her children. She said the woman had attacked her and had torn her blouse, the officers reported.

Mrs. Perettie, who has been a guest at Mrs. Martin's home in recent weeks, was booked at Marin County Jail. Bail was set at $300.

Safety Meeting

Kenneth K. Bechtel of Ross, a member of the executive committee of the California Traffic Safety Foundation, will join other board members tomorrow in a meeting in San Francisco with Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, to determine the council's responsibility in the California traffic safety campaign.

Recreation Meet Called Off In Respect To Tivel

A scheduled meeting of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission was called off by Chairman Albert E. Kogler last night "out of respect to the memory of Carl Tivel."

Tivel, commission member and superintendent of the Larkspur School District, took his own life Monday night after fatally shooting his estranged wife, Anna, in her San Rafael home.

"Carl put his heart and soul into the work of our recreation group," Kogler said today.

He announced the commission will meet next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Man Who Crashed Car Faces Varied Charges

A Hamilton Air Force Base airman, who grabbed a car away from a Petaluma woman and crashed it in an attempt to get away from police, today faces a number of charges in Petaluma Justice Court.

A/B Sidney B. Howell, 21, of the 78th Transportation Squadron, reported in "good condition" today at Letterman Army Hospital where he is being treated for broken ribs, faces these charges:

Running a stop sign, driving a stolen car, reckless driving, failure to yield to the light and siren of a police car and driving without due caution.

Petaluma police said Howell dragged Mrs. Falley Goss from her parked car near a drive-in cafe, leaped into it and drove away. The car later smashed into a parked one belonging to William Diesher of Petaluma.

Maj. Gordon Jackson of the Hamilton Air Force Base legal office said Howell is subject to both the jurisdiction of the Air Force and civilian authorites. He said whichever jurisdiction is asserted first would have the opportunity to bring charges —in this case the Petaluma Justice Court.

At the time of the accident, Howell was restricted to the base pending a hearing by a military board on the question of whether he should be discharged from the service because of unsuitability, Jackson said.

Hoover Urges Kid Criminals Be Identified

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, in a bulletin dated Oct. 1 is calling on all law-enforcement agencies for an all-out campaign against juvenile delinquency.

As a key part of this campaign, Hoover calls for publication of the names and records of juvenile law breakers.

In the bulletin, addressed to "all law enforcement officials" and received today by the Marin County office of the FBI, Hoover says:

"One of the most shocking developments in our present American society is the volcanic upheavel of youthful lawlessness. . . .

"The problem of youthful crime — truly a monster of frightening proportions — exists not only in the densely populated metropolitan centers, but in each and every community in the land. . . .

"Action against this youth menace must not be delayed. Past public ignorance of the problem, misguided sentiment for the 'tender age' of these lawbreakers, and the fallacy of economizing in the quantity and quality of our juvenile courts must be abolished. . . .

"It is my firm conviction that the all-out campaign against these flagrant young criminals who commit serious crimes must include publishing their names and crimes for public information. . . ."

Co. in Sausalito last June, Then he borrowed $10,000 cash on that savings account.

Investigator William Bemiss of the district attorney's office learned that Betts went to San Francisco and used $7,500 of that money to pay a loan for H. Ward Dawson Jr., prominent San Francisco attorney. Betts also gave the $2,500 balance to Dawson.

A warrant of arrest for Betts has been sent to San Juan, Puerto Rico, where Betts is believed to be living. Bail is set at $5,000.

Stanley Gustavson of San Francisco, attorney for Betts, told the district attorney's office, that Betts may return voluntarily. If he does not, Garety will seek extradition. Grand theft conviction carries a maximum penalty of 14 years in prison.

Both Betts and Dawson were associated with Lynch in the Puerto Rico company. Dawson was subsequently dismissed from the company but Betts stayed on, according to investigator Bemiss.

Lynch also has filed a civil suit against Betts in Marin Superior Court. Lynch contends that Betts and a Helene Ross, divorcee living in San Juan, claim interest in some land owned by Lynch in Sausalito near Rodeo and Alta avenues.

Dawson was in the news three weeks ago when his wife, Mrs. Carol Mae Dawson, alleged he tried to get her consent to a marriage-divorce game with $80,000 as stake. She is suing him for divorce on grounds of extreme cruelty.

Mrs. Dawson alleged that her lawyer-husband proposed a scheme whereby he would marry a wealthy San Francisco woman, then divorce her and re-marry the temporarily shed Carol Mae.

tractor for curb and gutter work on the Candlestick Park approach roads is the same U. Peira and Son.

Questioned by the Independent-Journal yesterday, an employee of the paving firm acknowledged that the Candlestick work had contributed to delays on the Bon Air project.

"Mr. Harney (Charles L. Harney, stadium contractor) insisted that we keep going at Candlestick," the employee said. "But we've also had a lot of other work to get done in other parts of the Bay Area."

With the Giants out of contention, Peira crews suddenly appeared in Larkspur Monday and poured 1,500 feet of curbs and gutters on the east side of Magnolia avenue and the south side of Bon Air road.

Today, they were scheduled to set the forms for additional curbs and gutters. If all goes well, these are to be poured tomorrow.

That done, Jones will be free to accomplish the paving work he has been waiting with some impatience to perform.

"Actually," said Larkspur City Manager Ronald E. Piper, "the contractor (Jones) is ahead of schedule. His contract gives him 90 calendar days to complete the work, and that gives him until Nov. 18."

Kin To Arrange Rites For Tivels

Funeral arrangements for Carl J. Tivel, 47, superintendent of the Larkspur Elementary School District, and his estranged wife, Anna May, 39, whose deaths resulted from a murder-suicide Monday night, were still pending today at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael.

Mrs. Charles Tivel of Santa Ana, mother of the superintendent, and Mrs. Edward Winn of Mariposa County, his sister, arrived today in San Rafael to make arrangements. Besides Mr.and Mrs. Tivel's six sons, they are the only survivors.

Tivel shot his wife to death in her San Rafael home, 548 Belle avenue, and then killed himself with the same .38 caliber revolver. The tragedy occurred three weeks after a doctor and a psychiatrist had recommended that Tivel be committed to an institution because he had suicidal and homicidal tendencies.

The appellate court decision commented:

"The district proposes to build relocated roads to better standards than existing roads; the county insists they be 'ultimate' modern highways. The trial court has issued an order of immediate possession . . . requiring it (the district) to replace roads which are to be inundated. The court would, at the trial, determine the final terms and conditions . . . of these roads."

The decision was signed by Presiding Judge A. F. Bray and concurred in by Judges Fred B. Wood and Matthew Tobriner. Attorney Samuel W. Gardiner presented the water district's case to the court, with County Counsel Leland H. Jordan representing the county.

OBITUARIES

Ex-Milling Executive Dies At 76

Edwin L. Dial, 76, retired milling executive of Ross, who is credited with having suggested placing free gifts in packaged breakfast foods, died yesterday in San Francisco of a heart ailment.

Dial had resided on Sylvan lane, Ross, the past five years.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at N. Gray and Co., San Francisco. Burial will be private.

Dial was retired manager of the Albers Milling Co. plant in Oakland, a position he held from 1929 to 1955. He began his career in San Francisco in 1905 as an employee of the Pacific Cereal Assn.

During the San Francisco earthquake and fire of 1906, he proposed that pieces of pottery melted by the fire be inserted in packages of cereal.

In 1922, Dial started his own grain business in the Merchants Exchange Building in San Francisco, which he operated until joining the Albers Company.

He served as president of the California Hay, Grain and Feed Dealers' Assn.

He is survived by his wife, Hilda, and by two daughters, Mrs. Audrey Olson of Clements, San Joaquin County, and Mrs. Dorian Koch of Honolulu.

The family has asked that tibutes be contributions to the San Francisco Heart Assn., 259 Geary street, San Francisco.

Gardening Expert Claimed By Death

Emilio Brovelli, 74, a retired self-employed gardener who had lived in Marin County for a half-century, died last night at a local hospital after long illness. His home had been at 16 Francisco boulevard, San Rafael.

A Requiem High Mass will be sung at 9:30 a.m. Friday at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael, the cortege forming at 9:15 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary at Fifth avenue and E street. The Rosary will be recited at the Keaton chapel at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Born in Italy, Brovelli came to California 53 years ago and had lived most of his subsequent life in Marin, where he was well known as a garden expert.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Letizia Brovelli; two sons, George and Orlando Brovelli of San Rafael; and two brothers, Peter Brovelli of Healdsburg and John Brovelli of Italy.

Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery in San Rafael.

Susie Erskine, 89, Taken By Death

Mrs. Susie Erskine, a Marin resident for two years, died this morning at a local hospital at the age of 89 after a long illness.

A former resident of San Francisco, she had been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Agnes Marsteller, at 123 Tiburon boulevard, near Belveron Gardens. She was a native of Texas.

In addition to Mrs. Marsteller, she is survived by a son, Charles, of Antioch, and 18 grandchildren.

Mill Valley Infant Dies In Hospital

The three-day-old infant son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Owen, of 131 Eldridge avenue, Mill Valley, died early today at a local hospital.

Cremation was to be this afternoon at Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, directed by Russell and Gooch.

Dominican Alumna Funeral Services Slated Tomorrow

Funeral services for Mrs. Catherine Agnes Wallace, 88, who until her death Monday was the oldest living alumna of Dominican Convent upper school of San Rafael, will be held at 9 a.m. tomorrow in Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Wallace, a native of Vallejo, attended Dominican before it was moved from Benicia to San Rafael in 1889. She died at the Walnut Creek home of her daughter, Mrs. Clifford Schroeder.

Mrs. Wallace was the widow of John F. Wallace, chief engineer on the Western Pacific ferries before the discontinuance of the ferry boats on San Francisco Bay.

Besides Mrs. Schroeder, Mrs. Wallace is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Irene Beed of Alamo and Mrs. Edna Austin of San Jose, and a son, John F. Wallace Jr. of Sacramento.

Funeral services will be held at the Little Chapel of the Flowers, 1139 Saranap boulevard, Walnut Creek.

Lutheran Leader Dies Of Cancer

The honorary vice president of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, Rev. Arnold H. Grumm, 65, died of lung cancer in St. Louis, Mo., last week.

He had been mentioned as a possible candidate for presidency of the synod before the national convention held in San Francisco last June, but withdrew his name from consideration for health reasons.

Rev. Grumm was the brother of Rev. Meinert H. Grumm, long-time Lutheran missionary in India, who spent most of his year-long furlough as a Marin resident two years ago. He also was the brother of the late Fred Grumm, state highway engineer remembered for his public appearances in Marin in connection with highway planning.

He also was the cousin of Justus F. Craemer of Kent Woodlands.

Mao Lectured By Nikita Not To Rock Boat

Red Chinese Chief, Russian Premier Open Pieping Talks

TOKYO (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev lectured Mao Tze-tung publicly today on the need for ending the cold war and then met with the Red Chinese leader in a closed session. The talks were described as cordial and friendly.

The Soviet premier bounced into Peiping from his historic conferences with President Eisenhower with a declaration that "everything must be done to clear the atmosphere and create conditions for international friendship."

SEEMS WARNING

'EASE SITUATION'

"We must do everything in order to ease the situation and to create conditions for friendliness between all nations," the leader of the Communist world told Mao and Red satellite chieftains gathered in the Chinese capital for the Peiping regime's 10th anniversary celebrations.

"We must make all efforts to create conditions for establishment of world peace," Khrushchev added.

Delivered against the background of Peiping's crushing of the Tibet rebellion, its border dispute with India and the Red revolt in Laos, the planeside talk sounded like a pointed suggestion to Mao to keep the peace in Asia.

LANDS IN PEIPING

Peiping radio said the Soviet premier got a rousing welcome from Communist China's top officials, bands, a guard of honor and youth delegations who presented him with bouquets.

Khrushchev described his visit to the United States and his talks with Eisenhower as valuable.

U.S. Clears Marin Man In Laos Fraud

Timothy Chung Chew of 320 Ricardo drive, Mill Valley, has been cleared of any participation in a federal case involving a foreign exchange deal in the kingdom of Laos.

His partner, Frank Y. Q. Lee, pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy to defraud, Judge George B. Harris of U. S. District Court in San Francisco, dismissing the charge against Chew at the request of the government, set Nov. 4 as the date for Lee's sentencing.

The charges involved a $95,430 foreign aid transaction of the International Cooperation Administration. Chew said no money of this government was involved but only private funds.

Chew described the operation as a technical one having to do with a 2-1 differential between open and official exchange rates as between the currencies of Laos and the United States. His firm is an import company.

"I wasn't a participant in this matter, which is why the charges were dismissed against myself," said Chew.

Atty. General's Opinion Sought On Recall Issue

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved a request by Fred Mantegani to consult the state attorney general on the movement for his recall from the Tiburon Fire Commission.

"No cases are on record like this one," Chairman Walter R. Castro pointed out. Earlier, the supervisors had expressed doubt as to whether an appointee could be recalled before serving six months in office.

The board, meanwhile, called a special election on the matter for Dec. 8, acting on the petition of recall filed with County Clerk George S. Jones and bearing 116 signatures.

Mantegani was appointed by the board of supervisors to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Howard I. McGill. The appointment was made without waiting for a recommendation from the fire district board, which did not meet with the approval of many Tiburon residents or the fire commissioners.

The petition requesting a special election for the commission seat now held by Mantegani was filed by Fred C. Hannahs, vice chairman of the fire commission.

BOTH LEOPARD, JUDGE TOUGH ADVERSARIES

Robert Smith, 47, said he once had captured animals in Africa and India and wanted to see whether he had lost his touch.

In city court on a vagrancy charge, he said he had opened an unlocked gate of the zoo, walked in and started to wrestle a tiger.

Police, however, said Smith actually had tangled with a leopard by reaching into the cage to pet him. The animal scratched Smith's arm.

"You see to like cages," said the judge, "so I'll give you a cage of your own for 30 days."

Mercury Rise Brings Relief To Snow Area

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Warming temperatures were expected today to bring relief from the damaging snowstorms in the Rocky Mountain region.

Shattered tree limbs made a shambles of hundreds of streets. Power in large sections of metropolitan areas was disrupted. Highways between the mountains and the Kansas border were closed. So were many schools.

At least two deaths were attributed to the storm in Denver.

Denver received 10.3 inches of snow.

Denver's maximum of 35 degrees yesterday was a record low for the city for Sept. 29.

Santa Venetia School Addition Bid Accepted

A low bid of $75,000 by Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross for additions to Santa Venetia School was accepted last night by the San Rafael Board of Education.

Additional classrooms for homemaking, arts and crafts are to be built within 188 working days, according to the terms of the proposed contract.

Zoellner's bid was the lowest of three submitted. Gorman B. Hodges Co. of Santa Rosa bid $79,973, and Tesdahl Construction Co. of Richmond, $84,383.

The board accepted the low bid of $5,180 by Drew Ashley Excavation Co. of Vallejo for moving 7,000 cubic yards of dirt fill onto the Davidson School grounds to create additional playground area.

The bid was the lowest of seven submitted which ranged to a high of $10,920 by E. A. Forde Co. of San Anselmo.

The school board last evening also:

1. Agreed to assign the testing of materials at the Santa Venetia Junior High School additions to Abbott A. Hanks, Inc., of San Francisco, and appointed Albert H. Seimer as inspector on the job.

2. Authorized Supt. Frank L. Lucas to purchase 10 new television sets for use in classrooms participating in television station KQED's educational programs. Lucas was instructed to buy $134 sets from General Electric Co. in San Mateo or $168 sets from Photo and Sound, San Francisco, depending on which sets give the better reception.

Suspect Seized In Ship Death

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Dutch radio officer was arrested today on suspicion of murder in the mysterious death of Chicago heiress Lynn Kauffman, whose beaten body was found in Boston harbor the day after she vanished from the Dutch freighter Utrecht.

Boston police said Willem Marie Louis Van Rye of Holland told detectives he had had an "affair" with the 23-year old divorcee on the voyage from Singapore to New York, and had beaten her. But he said he had no knowledge of how she went overboard.

School District Offers $20,500 For Property

The San Rafael Elementary School District will offer the Dominican Sisters $20,500 for six-tenths of an acre of Dominican Convent property west of Coleman School. The property has been appraised at $15,000.

The decision was made by the San Rafael Board of Education last evening after Supt. Frank L. Lucas reported the $15,000 was considered an "unrealistic" value for the property by both the owners and E. Warren McGuire, deputy county counsel who advises school districts in legal matters.

The Dominican Sisters have indicated that the $15,000 figure did not include either severence or access damages, said Lucas.

The property borders on Watt and Belle avenues. Watt has been closed by the San Rafael City Council to allow expansion of the Coleman School campus.

Board Delays Decision On Juvenile Hall

Consideration of building a new classroom at juvenile hall was put off a week by Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday, pending a report by County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis on its need.

The supervisors approved some $2,500 worth of maintenance work and an estimated $4,400 in remedial work for the hall. This will include repainting the interior and exterior of the buildings, carpeting, installing ventilation, locks and installation of flame retardent chip board on walls where plaster has been damaged, and other repairs.

The board said that it would authorize additional repairs and the classroom later if found to be needed.

The supervisors will meet again Oct. 6, canceling a special Oct. 8 meeting.

Novato Library Hours To Change

Beginning Oct. 1, the Novato branch library will be open 41 hours each week, it was announced today by Mrs. Marjorie Leech, head librarian.

The new schedule of hours will be:

Monday through Wednesday, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 to 5 p.m. On Thursdays the hours will be from 2 to 5 p.m. only. The library will be open evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock on Monday through Thursday.

Assisting Mrs. Leech will be Mrs. Lorraine Connell.

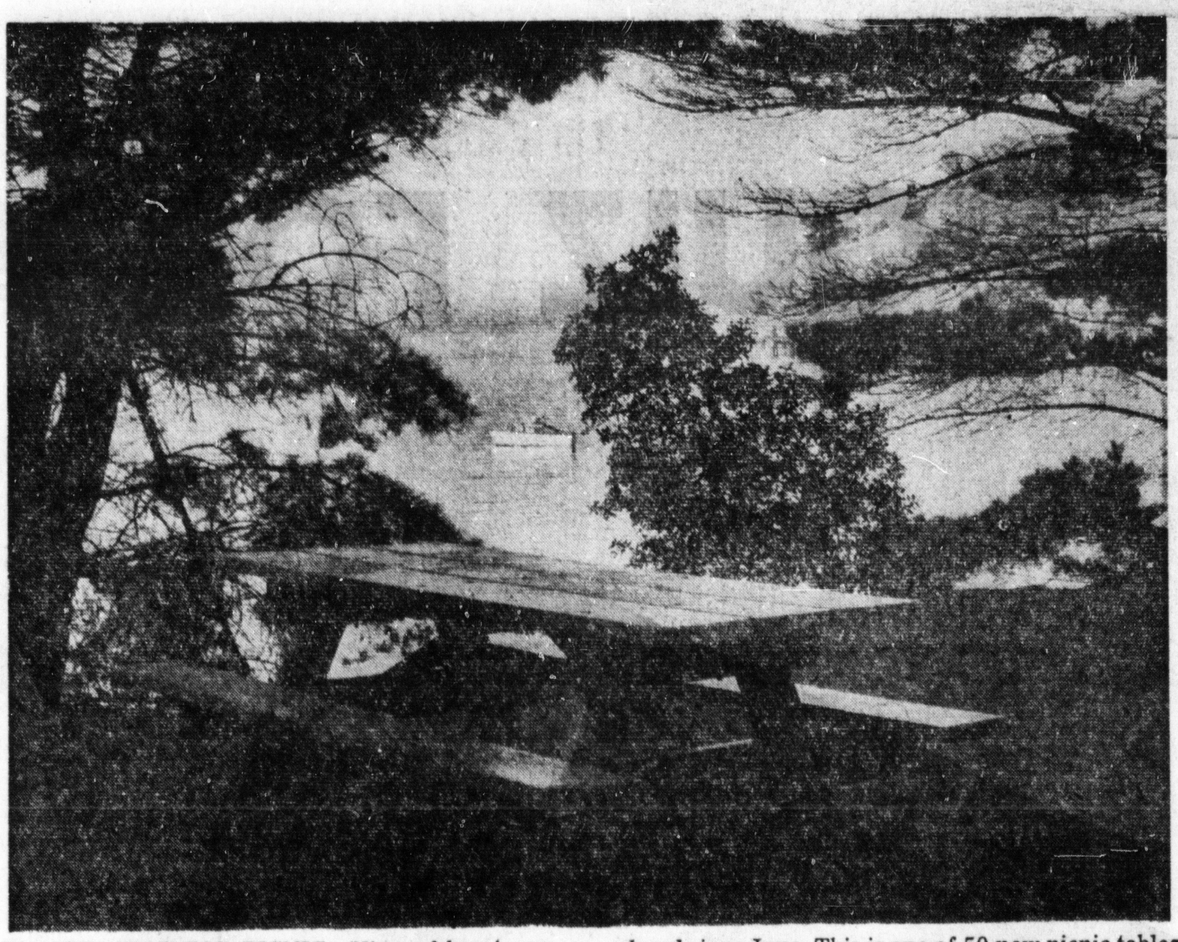
SANITARY FACILITY — Concrete block comfort station is among improvements added at Angel Island State Park while it was closed during summer. Park Supt. John A. Biggio expects great influx of visitors with reopening.



BEAUTY SPOT FOR PICNIC—View of bay is provided from picnic site in Angel Island State Park, which will reopen tomorrow after having been closed since June. This is one of 50 new picnic tables installed while park was closed.

Improved Angel Island Park Opens To Public Tomorrow

By LARRY LOVETT

Ever since Angel Island State Park was closed to the public in June to permit construction of improvements, Park Supt. John A. Biggio has been beset by people wanting to know when the beauty spot would reopen.

Tomorrow is the day. Starting tomorrow, the park will be open every day.

Completely refurbished, the park now boasts 220 acres (albeit many of them almost vertical), whereas during its first year of operation it had only 36 usable acres. Yet that year it played host to 6,000 visitors.

"We now expect up to 6,000 people to take advantage of this close-in protected park every weekend," Biggio predicted.

He listed the improvements as: 10 finger piers for small boats; new and enlarged picnic areas with 50 "eating" tables and four serving tables; 25 barbecue stoves — with more to come; improved drinking fountains; a huge concrete block comfort station, and a new sewage disposal plant.

There is as yet, no public ferry service to the island, although Russ Lewis of Sausalito well-known party boat skipper, says he will operate trips to the island from Sausalito every morning with return trips in the afternoon.

In the past, guests at the park have arrived by private boat, anchoring in the cove. "Heretofore, we have had no docking facilities," Biggio explained. "With our new finger piers, we will be able to play host to many more visitors."

An additional 320 acres of the island is controlled by the Army, including a Nike installation at the summit of Mt. Livermore, formerly known as Mt. Ida, some 776 feet high. This area is closed to visitors.

"The park will be open for daytime use only," Biggio said, "and will not have swimming facilities due to contamination in the cove from boat engines."

Angel Island has a colorful history dating back to 1775, when Lt. Don Juan Manuel Ayala used it as a base while he explored nearby waters. In later years, the island was used for a time as a bastille to confine prisoners in the hulks of beached and abandoned ships during the construction of San Quentin Prison.

During the Civil War, artillery pieces were installed on the island to bar entrance through the Golden Gate by Confederate ships which never appeared. In later years, the island housed San Francisco's immigration and quarantine station for a long period.

During both world wars, the island was used for troop processing, and for a short time in World War II, German and Italian prisoners of war were housed there.

Samoa Feast Slated At Park Tomorrow

Two top officials of American Samoa—Chief Rapi Solua, president of the Senate, and A. P. Lauvao, speaker of the House—have invited members of the Bay Area United Societies of Samoa to join them in a feast of roast pig, taro, raw fish and other island delicacies.

The two are here in connection with the Pacific Festival in San Francisco. They are also interested in what can be done to confer United States citizenship on 20,000 natives of their island, according to George T. Davis, San Francisco attorney who is general counsel for American Samoa.

But tomorrow, they'll live it up, Samoan style, on the reopening day at Angel Island State Park. They'll appear in native costume, and Samoans with native musical instruments will keep the afternoon lively, according to John A. Biggio, park superintendent.

Marin Gets Funds For Fire Fighting

State funds totaling $100,470 have been received this year for protection of Marin County watershed lands, County Fire Chief Charles Reilley reported to the board of supervisors yesterday. He said that this compares with $98,000 for last year.

Reilley later explained that Marin is a "contract county" with no state forestry protection but with this handled by the county fire department, aided by state funds.

QUIZ FOR ADVERTISERS

Q. What is the most effective and economical way to present a selling message to 25,000 Marin families? CHECK ONE.

1. POSTAL CARD . . . 2. LETTER . . . 3. ADVERTISING FOLDER . . . 4. AN I-J ADVERTISEMENT . . .

A. An I-J Advertisement, by a tremendous margin.

ANALYSIS

Postal Card. We used to call it a "penny postal." That's when you could buy them at any post office for one cent each. Today a government postal costs 3c—$750 for postage alone to send a short message to 25,000 names. Engravings, printing, addressing, compiling or buying a mailing list, delivery to the postoffice, other expenses, could easily double (or triple) that figure, depending on how elaborate you make your 3c mailing card.

A Letter. This costs even more—$1,000 for postage alone if you send it first-class. Individually typed letters would, of course, be prohibitive in cost; the expense of a form letter would include costs of the paper, mimeographing or printing, filling in names if desired, envelopes, addressing, enclosing, handling expense, in addition to postage. Ten cents per name would be a low estimate. That's $2,500.

Advertising Folder. Your message, adequately presented in type and pictures, could hardly cost less than a letter — say, $2,500 — and could run to almost any amount, depending on size, colors used, etc.

An I-J Advertisement. For $750—the cost of 25,000 Postal Cards—you can present your selling message in the Independent-Journal more than 37 times, in a space (2 columns by 10 inches) larger than a postcard! No expense for mailing list, addressing, printing . . . not even for engravings, if you use the I-J's free mat service.

Or you could run TWO full page ads in the I-J for $750, giving your message tremendous impact and selling power . . . and still have nearly $100 left in your advertising kitty.

You could even have an EXTRA COLOR in one of your page ads, and still keep within your $750 budget.

CONCLUSION: To cover Marin, with your message delivered on the doorsteps of 5 out of 7 homes (an estimated audience of close to 100,000), ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY I-J!

Permit Denied For Pier Already Built

An already constructed pier supporting a deck structure over Coyote Creek in Tamalpais Valley was denied the privilege of being built by action yesterday of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The apparent result is that the pier will have to come up and out.

The matter was one part of a complex situation concerning structures of Francisco Sales Co., Inc., at 425 Shoreline avenue. The county planning commission had approved part of the company's plans and denied other parts. The supervisors backed up the commission after extensive debate.

George Molander appeared for the Francisco company with a declaration that 71 per cent of the neighbors of the property in question were somehow in violation of the building laws.

NOT UNCOMMON

B. D. Dobbs of the planning staff was asked about this by Supervisor Vera Schultz. He said in older neighborhoods it isn't uncommon for existing structures to be in violation of recent ordinances.

"As rebuilding goes on, the ordinances can correct this," he declared.

Mrs. Schultz said "the board has committed itself to the army engineers regarding flood control."

Supervisor William A. Gnoss agreed and said the engineers recommended that there be no obstruction.

NEIGHBORS OBJECT

At this point a group of neighbors arose to voice objection to the whole idea of the deck. With Harold Stockstad of 204 Cardinal road, Mill Valley, as spokesman, they said this was the middle of a stream bed which was the main channel from Tam Valley.

"Concrete columns in the middle of the ditch could cause chaos," said Stockstad.

The supervisors' vote against the project was unanimous but Supervisor William D. Fusselman said he voted "yes" subject to an understanding that the county's public works department would try to work out a plan to permit existence of the deck without the objectionable pier.

The supervisors also voted approval of decisions of the planning commission on a dozen other matters.

Italian Statesman Greeted By Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Italian Prime Minister Antonio Segni arrived here today for a state visit. He went immediately to the White House for a luncheon conference with President Eisenhower.

He arrived here by plane from Boston. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and officials greeted him. He was given a full military reception.

In an arrival statement, he pledged his country's full cooperation with the United States in working toward peace, freedom and world justice.

PARK

points to the extensive groves of eucalyptus on the island and the many fine Monterey pines and cypress, commenting that "just about every local species of bird can be seen on the island."

He adds that fishing in the cove usually provides plenty of bass and perch and that nature lovers will find about "everything that grows" somewhere within the park boundaries. (Even some poison oak here and there).

About 98 per cent of the island is in Marin County.

Planning Post Change Set

Mrs. Mary Summers, Marin County planning director, gained approval of the Marin Board of Supervisors yesterday for a plan of her own: To vacate the position of junior planner on her staff and substitute one of senior planner.

Initially she got a unanimous vote but later Supervisor William D. Fusselman asked that his approval be cancelled so the vote was left at 4-1.

Mrs. Summers said she had been unable to find the junior planner she'd been given authority to hire, so during July, August and September salary money amounting to something more than $900 had been spent for various tasks.

Now, said Mrs. Summers, she'd found a man apparently well qualified to be a senior planner, and there was work for him to do.

The difference in pay would be about $120 a month, it developed.

"What dollars are you going to use?" asked Fusselman. He declared "When the budget was set up that wasn't the picture."

The supervisors also:

1. Approved naming four persons to county positions: Robert F. Bertrand, deputy sheriff, at $395 per month; Mariom Shoemaker, junior typist clerk, welfare department, $255; Frank Tamba, maintenance man, department of public works, $341, and David Lloyd, maintenance man, department of public works, $341.

2. Approved promotion of Elizabeth Ager from intermediate stenographer clerk with the county superintendent of schools to senior stenographer clerk, with no increase in the $341 salary.

Richardson Bay Meeting Delayed

A meeting of the Richardson Bay Harbor Committee, originally set for this evening at Sabella's, has been postponed, according to Francis L. Newton, acting chairman.

The committee is composed of property owners on Richardson Bay who have banded together in an effort to develop methods of financing dredging and other improvements aimed at creating small craft harbor facilities.

Newton said a date for the postponed meeting had not yet been set.

Marinite Wins Award

John E. Melgord of 35 Rosebrook avenue, Kentfield, has been presented a $200 check in recognition of "outstanding" work as a liaison engineer with the San Francisco District, Army Corps of Engineers. The award was for his judgment in handling public relations with outside agencies and officials under the current aircraft control and warning program.

12-Inning Drama In L.A.—Dodgers Dethrone Braves

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The champion Los Angeles Dodgers moved into Chicago today, ready to take on the White Sox for the world championship.

But the scene in Memorial Coliseum yesterday as dusk settled was still a vivid memory to the 36,528 fans gathered in the place, and the millions who watched on television.

Two of the great heros of the Dodger old guard, first baseman Gil Hodges and outfield Carl Furillo, were all but dismantled by their teammates as the battle came to its quick end in the 12th inning.

Hodges scored the winning run in the 6 to 5 victory on Furillo's hit back of second base, a tally made possible when Felix Mantillo threw wild to first base.

NO CHAMPAGNE

There was no champagne celebration in the Dodgers quarters. For one thing, liquor is barred from the city-owned Coliseum. For another, the team had less than three hours to take off for Chicago.

But there was a joyous interlude. Hodges poured a soft drink over the head of the winning pitcher, young Stan Williams. Then he got on the rubbing table to have his chronically sore leg massaged.

Manager Walt Alston, a soft-spoken, kindly sort of man, was speechless for moments but finally said: "At the moment, I can't think of much to say."

After further thought, he said: "No season gave me more of a thrill than this one. It would have to rank with the time we won the World Series from the Yankees."

"Bu those three big ones we won from San Francisco a couple of weekends ago were the big ones. That was the big push we needed."

Presently Alston excused himself. He showed up, still in uniform and spiked shoes, in the Brave dressing room to shake hands with Brave manager Fred Haney.

"You came from behind to win and you deserved it," sportsman Haney declared. "Now go after the White Sox."

With a wide grin he reminded his interviewers: "Remember, I picked this club as the one to beat last spring."

Repeatedly, Haney declined to criticize his little shortstop, Felix Mantillo, for the throwing error that permitted Hodges to score.

"Give the other club credit. They came from behind and beat us fair and square."

Haney did say that veteran Lew Burdette had remarked that he should have fielded two of the hits that went through the box in the exciting ninth inning when the Dodgers tied it up. But, Haney pointed out, they were well hit balls.

Haney said he couldn't recall when he had to use four pitchers as he did in the ninth —Burdette, Joey Jay, Warren Spahn and Don McMahon.

Mantilla, stoic, explained the play: "It was the only play I had. I was off balance when I grabbed the ball. I had to get rid of it."

LOGAN KAYOED

Mantilla was shifted from second to shortstop when Johnny Logan was knocked out of the game by Norm Larker of the Dodgers in the seventh inning.

Logan, who has been murder at bat for the Braves against Los Angeles, was carried off the field on a stretcher. But it developed the terrific impact as Larker raced to second on John Roseboro's double play grounder had simply knocked the wind out of him.

Logan emphatically declined to censure Larker.

"I'd have done the same thing if I had been running," he said.

But the first thing Logan asked when he got his breath back, lying on a table in the dressing room, was:

"Did we get him out?"

GREAT PROPHET

Veteran Duke Snider tabbed himself quite a prophet. He said he told Wally Moon going into the bottom of the ninth the Dodgers would get five straight hits.

"We got four, then a sacrifice fly—which doesn't count as a time at bat—and then another hit.

"Man, you can't predict much better than that. I wish I could pick the horses that way."

"This club seemed to know all along they were going to win. But I'll admit there were a few times when I doubted it."

The Dodgers were down 5-2 in the ninth when they chased starter Burdette with consecutive singles by Wally Moon, Snider and Hodges. Reliever McMahon yielded a two-run single to Larker, and Furillo tied it with his long fly off Spahn.

The Braves scored in the first on Frank Torre's two-run single and added a third run in the second on Snider's throwing error. They knocked out starter Don Drysdale in the fifth when Ed Mathews hit his 46th home run.

Their fifth and final run came in the eighth when Del Crandall tripled and scored on Mantilla's sacrifice fly.

The Dodgers scored a run in first when Moon singled in Charley Neal, who had tripled. Neal slammed his 19th home run of the season over the left field screen in the fourth for the second Dodger run.

HAPPY DODGERS IN CHICAGO — Members of the Los Angeles Dodgers were in a happy mood early this morning when they arrived at Chicago's Midway Airport for the opening of the World Series tomorrow. Two Games In Chicago, Then Move To Coliseum

(COMBINED AP & UPI)

CHICAGO — The Chicago White Sox today named big Early Wynn their starter in the 1959 World Series opener against the Los Angeles Dodgers, playoff conquerors of the Milwaukee Braves for the National League crown.

Manager Al Lopez made his indicated choice definite when he announced that Wynn, with a 22-10 record in the Sox march to their first American League pennant in 40 years, would open at Comiskey Park at 2 p.m. EDT tomorrow against the Dodgers.

Walt Alston, Dodgers' pilot, already had announced Roger Craig, with an 11-5 record, as his choice for opening day.

The first two games will be played in Comiskey Park with the best-of-seven championship then shifting to the Coliseum in Los Angeles for the third, fourth and, if necessary, fifth games. If needed, the sixth and seventh games will be played in Chicago, with a day of travel interrupting play when the clubs shift parks.

It's the massive Coliseum, seating some 94,000 for baseball, which could make this the richest series. Comiskey Park seats 46,550.

TV AND RADIO

All games will start at 1 p.m. local time and will be telecast and broadcast nationally by NBC.

The bookmakers have made the White Sox favorites because of their three days of rest since Sunday's close of the American League season. That layoff, however, may have cooled off the Sox, while the Dodgers could still be riding the kick of having won eight of their last 10 games.

The Dodgers, first club ever to win an N.L. pennant after finishing seventh the year before, jumped into Comiskey Park for a workout today. They boarded a flight from Los Angeles a few hours after eliminating the defending champion Braves two straight in the best of three playoff with yesterday's 6-5, 12-inning victory.

INJURED CHISOX

The one-day delay in the series opener caused by the N.L. playoff probably did the Sox' walking injured—outfielder Jim Landis (injured leg) and catcher Sherm Lollar (bruised hand)—some good. But it may not prove a benefit for Wynn. The Old Man, top winner among major league pitchers still at it (271), has worked best with three days rest. He'll have four days of rest for the opening assignment.

While the Dodger number quite a few holdovers from previous squads, the White Sox have but four—first baseman Earl Torgeson, with the 1948 Braves; outfielder Al Smith and Wynn, with the 1945 Cleveland Indians; and Lollar, with the 1947 New York Yankees.

Only Lollar was with a winner, and it was the Dodgers whom the Yankees beat, in seven games.

Lopez, incidentally, managed the Indians of '54—and lost the series in four straight games to the Giants.

FIFTH CHAMP

This is the fifth White Sox team to win a pennant, but only the fourth to play in a World Series. The 1901 club won the first A.L. race, but the World Series wasn't born until 1903. The Hitless Wonders of -1906 won the series from Chicago's Cubs and the 1917 team beat the New York Giants.

Then came the infamous Black Sox and the rigged 1919 series with Cincinnati.

The Sox, with 35 of their 94 victories by one run, put away their first pennant since then with a 4-2 victory, behind Wynn, over Cleveland a week ago yesterday. Like the Dodgers, the White Sox gathered in the pennant by beating the only club that could take it from them.

They were 15-7 against second-place Cleveland for the season, virtually locking up the flag with a four-game sweep late in August.

The Dodgers, winning a pennant with the fewest victories (88) in National League history, put away their ninth title—their first as a West Coast club—after being tied with Milwaukee for second, two games behind San Francisco, on the next to last Friday of the season.

First Reports Indicate Good Deer Hunt Season

The season opened last Saturday and continues until Nov. 1.

A record of 1,039 deer were shot during the first two days in Mono County, the Fish and Game Department reported. Only 696 were killed in the same period last year.

Director William E. Warne said indications point to an increased kill this year at least in parts of Shasta, Trinity, Glenn, Lassen, Siskiyou, Alpine, Eldorado, Fresno, Tulare, Kern and Mono counties.

Warne said the crop of yearlings is bigger than predicted. He said there seemed to be about the same number of hunters as last year.

Favorites Advance In Coast Tennis

Maria Bueno of Brazil, top-seeded among the women, took her first scheduled match by default. Miss Bueno, from Sao Paulo, won the women's titles at Wimbledon and Forest Hills.

Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, top-seeded American, beat Norman Brooks, San Mateo, 6-2, 6-4, and India's Ramanathan Krishnan, top-ranked among the foreign entries, breezed past Bill Freistat of Berkeley 6-1, 6-2.

COP, Stanford Work Hard On Defenses

STOCKTON (AP) — College of the Pacific stressed pass defense yesterday. The Tigers face Stanford Saturday and the nation's top collegiate passer—Dick Norman.

And Chris Burford of Stanford, Norman's favorite target, is the nation's top college pass catcher.

Reserves Bob Gattis and Bob Van der Wall played Norman's and Burford's roles in the COP scrimmage Tuesday and Coach Jack Myers said they played their parts so well, Gattis and Van der Wall won themselves a chance to play against Stanford.

Dick Bass, the Tiger's great halfback, complained of sore leg muscles after removing tape from his injured leg but Myers said Bass looked good and would be ready to start Saturday.

"Stop Dick Bass."

MILL VALLEY

Johnson Vs. Whitney In Golf Finals

Don Whitney and Ed Johnson, both of Mill Valley, will clash in the Mill Valley City golf championship finals next Sunday at the tricky muni layout in southern Marin County.

Johnson shot a string of birdies last Sunday to defeat Gene Tweedt, medalist, 4 and 3.

Results of semi-final matches in other flights:

Second—Lou Long def. Jack Martin, 20th; Charles Price def. Bob Russell, 1 up.

Third—Robert Cooke def. Dee Holcomb, 3 and 2; Jack Markley def. Gene Gaston, 2 up.

Five Prep Grid Games Slated This Weekend

Marin County's high school football season enters its second weekend of action Friday and Saturday with five games on the schedule — including three on local soil.

Most important contest on the menu is Friday night's meeting between the Marin Catholic Wildcats and the Drake Pirates. It will count in Marin County Athletic League standings, while all other games are of the "practice" variety.

Friday's MCAL tilt will be the first game under the College of Marin's brand new lighting system. Kickoff is set for 8 o'clock and each team will be seeking its first victory. Last week Marin lost a heart-breaking 13-6 decision to San Rafael while Drake suffered at the hands of the Analy Tigers, 32-0.

The other games at Kentfield this weekend are Mission of San Francisco against Redwood's Giants at 2 p.m. Saturday and the Napa Indians against Tamalpais Saturday night, 8 o'clock.

In other non-league games the Novato Hornets travel to Crockett to tackle John Swett High at 3 p.m. Friday and the San Rafael Bulldogs go to Vallejo to meet the potent Apaches at 8 p.m. Friday.

Two Tie For Top Honors In Norcal Tourney At Marin

Mesdames Aubrey Babson of San Jose and James Bull of the Northridge club each shot an 87 yesterday to tie for low gross honors in the Northern California Women's Golf Assn. open tournament played at the Marin Golf Club.

Class A — Mrs. William Murphy (Napa), 90-17—73; Mrs. James Bull (Northridge), 87-13—74; Mrs. C. Rath (Napa), 92-18—74; Mrs. G. LaRose (Santa Rosa), 88-11—77.

Class B — Mrs. Earl Bianchini (Petaluma), 96-20—76; Mrs. William Dixon (Olympic), 96-20—76; Mrs. B. P. O'Conner (Olympic), 98-20—78; Mrs. William Walkinshaw (Petaluma), 99-20—79.

Fights Last Night

Richmond, Calif.—Clarence Williams, 199, Hayward, Calif., outpointed Joe Sullivan, 180, San Francisco, 10.

FRESNO, Calif.—Ben Medina, 140½, Fresno, stopped Eddie Pace, 142¾, Los Angeles, 6.

Giardello Choice Over Briton In TV Clash Tonight

Giardello, veteran of 100 bouts, is a 6-5 favorite in the televised 10-rounder, to be scored under the 5-point-must system.

Giardello, ex-Philadelphian now living in Rosedale, N. Y., is seeking his fourth straight victory after taking decisions from Chico Vejar and Holly Mims and scoring a first round knockout over Del Flanagan. In 11 years of pro campaigning, he has won 78 bouts, 27 by kayoes.

Tiger, 30-year-old Nigerian who lives in Liverpool, England, will be making his second TV appearance. The last time, as a lopsided underdog, he knocked out Ace Armstrong from the unbeaten ranks in Camden, N. J., Sept. 2. Tiger has won 34 of 44 bouts, 10 by knockouts.

CHICAGO 11-10 SERIES CHOICE

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox are 11-10 favorites with Las Vegas odds-makers to win the World Series from Los Angeles.

The Sox are favored to win the opening game in Chicago tomorrow by the same odds.

Oddsmakers said they favor Chicago because the Sox are rested and the Dodgers have just come through a playoff series with Milwaukee for the National League pennant.

Williams, Smith Win In Richmond Double-Header

Williams, 199 from Hayward, staggered his 180-pound San Francisco opponent in the eighth but couldn't put him away. Referee Elmer Costa, the sole official, scored the fight 98-95.

Smith, 142, Oakland, knocked down Cardot, 143, Oakland, in the first round and was giving him a sound beating in the fourth when the fight was stopped.

L.A. Tickets On Sale Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Dodgers will put about 30,000 remaining strips-of-three tickets to Los Angeles World Series games on sale Thursday.

Ticket booths at the Coliseum will open at 8 a.m.

CONNOLLY

It's great to be able to say some good words for the S.F. 49ers.

In handing the Philadelphia Eagles a 24 to 14 defeat last Sunday the locals showed a definite upgrading of their defensive efforts and also demonstrated that the "old men" on the offensive team can still throw together a few chunks of yardage.

As a matter of fact the two great punt returns of Abe Woodson (65 yards) and Eddie Dove (62 yards) meant the big difference in an otherwise dull football game.

Each of the runs set up a score and, as it turned out, the margin of victory.

On one other drive the 49ers did go 70 yards in eight plays with old folks Tittle, Wilson and Perry joining J. D. Smith to grind out the yardage.

DURING THE FIRST HALF, Eagle quarterback Norm Van Brocklin was as wild as a Giant relief pitcher, completing only three of ten tries for a total of seven yards. This was probably the worst thirty minutes of the Dutchman's great career. After half time, however, Van moved into a double wing formation that began to break more receivers downfield and he began hitting his mark with the old time accuracy.

Time ran out on the Eagles or the game might have been a lot closer. This is taking nothing away from Dove, Woodson, Baker and Mertens who did a beautiful job of keeping the Eagle receivers under control.

Coach Red Hickey of the 49ers used two powerful fullbacks in his offensive lineup most of the game, Joe Perry and J. D. Smith. Their efforts were outstanding when you consider that the defense was ganged against them in the middle of the line. No team in the National Football League is going to worry much about the wide stuff of the 49ers this year when there are no blockers out in front of the runners.

TWO 49ER DEFENSIVE weaknesses must have made the Los Angeles Rams scouts drool.

On delayed bucks into the middle of the line the front men would often dash into the set mousetraps and the line backers would be caught going backward. The ten yard gap was mighty inviting.

The other weakness was the tight play of the 49ers' defensive umbrella.

On the quick up-and-over pass plays this defense can be caught flat footed. Look for some Ram speedsters to squirt out of that set-up like an olive pit through squeezed fingers.

When you remember that this same Eagle team almost upset the Los Angeles Rams in an exhibition game a couple of weeks ago it is easy to conjure up some hope for next Sunday's contest.

BUT MEMORIES also bring up the 48 to 14 pasting the Rams gave the 49ers the week before.

Colt-Bear Game Tops Week's Pro Grid Fare

By United Press International

The Baltimore Colts are seven-point choices to whip the Chicago Bears Saturday night in a game that will go a long way toward deciding the National Football League's Western Division race.

The remainder of the program for the league's second weekend of play is scheduled Sunday. In these games, the New York Giants are favored over the Eagles by six points at Philadelphia; the Steelers are favored over the Washington Redskins by 7½ at Pittsburgh; the Chicago Cardinals are favored over the Browns by three at Cleveland; the Detroit Lions and Packers are rated even at Green Bay, and the Los Angeles Rams are favored over the 49ers by four at San Francisco.

Baltimore, the defending league champion, started its defense of the crown last Sunday with a 21-9 victory over Detroit. The Bears, considered Baltimore's toughest Western Division rival, were upset by the Packers in their first start, 9-6.

Now the Bears face a make-or-break game against the champions and must play it at Baltimore, where the Colts have won their last nine starts.

BIG HANDICAP

The Bears could survive two straight losses but it would be tough climbing back into the race. The short, 12-game schedule makes the N.F.L. competition far different than the professional baseball, basketball and hockey campaigns. The long seasons in those sports permit a team to indulge in a slump and still win the pennant. A two-game losing streak usually is fatal in the N.F.L.

Cleveland, generally favored to regain the Eastern Division title from New York, is in the same leaky boat with the Bears. The Browns dropped their opener to the Steelers, 17-7, and face a Chicago Cardinal team that crushed the Redskins 49-21. The odds-makers were impressed by coach Frank Ivy's Cardinals. They have made the Browns underdogs, something that doesn't happen often, for their game with the Cardinals.

WADE HURT

The Rams' big worry is that Billy Wade, their No. 1 quarterback, may not be in top condition for their game at San Francisco. Wade suffered a leg injury in the club's 23-21 loss to New York last Saturday night.

Carnegie Alumni Seeking Members

A campaign for new members will be carried on throughout October by the Redwood Empire Chapter of the Dale Carnegie Alumni Assn., it was announced today by Robert Battini, president.

Persons who have completed the Dale Carnegie leadership course are eligible for membership, said Battini. Meetings are held at 7:45 p.m. on the first Tuesday and the third Wednesday of each month at the home of Hil Probert, 238 Magnolia avenue, Larkspur.

Buck Shaw Miffed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coach Buck Shaw of the Philadelphia Eagles has served notice that personnel who fail to show improvement will be released.

Shaw, angry over the Eagle's 24-14 loss to San Francisco Sunday in a National Football League opener, threatened the full force shakeup yesterday.

FAIRFAX CAMPAIGN

Bumper Strips Plug School Tax Increase

Committee volunteers have began distribution of 1,000 automobile bumper strip posters calling for a "yes" vote in the Fairfax School District tax rate election Oct. 20.

An increase of 75 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, from $1.25 to $2.00, is asked in the election to meet increased budgetary needs over the next five years.

ADDED COST

The Fairfax School District includes three elementary schools—Fairfax Central, Deer Park and Manor. Next July 1, the 40-year-old confederated organization linking it with the San Anselmo and Kentfield school district is to be dissolved, the three districts to begin operating independently.

Having to set up its own school superintendent's office and administration is expected to cost the Fairfax District $9,545 annually and accounts for 19 per cent of the added budget for which the tax increase is sought.

The proposed increase is also intended to raise the teacher salary schedule. The Fairfax salary maximum is $800 a year below the San Anselmo and Kentfield districts.

The Citizens Committee for Education, campaigning for the increase, claims the quality of teaching will suffer unless the Fairfax district can compete on fairly equal terms to attract and hold good teachers. The salary schedule adjustment will cost approximately $17,500 a year and will account for 35 per cent of the proposed increase.

OTHER ITEMS

Other items in the $50,145 increase in cost for which the tax increase authorization is sought are:

Setting up a semi-departmental program for pupils in grades seven and eight. This accounts for $10,500 or 21 per cent of the increase.

Adding a third principal at a cost of $8,500 or 17 per cent of the increase. At present one principal must divide his time between Deer Park and Fairfax Central schools.

Purchase of a new 60-passenger school bus at $2,400, taking into account a state reimbursement allowance on the old bus. This is 5 per cent of the increase sought. The 40-passenger school bus was bought in 1948 to serve an enrollment of 350 pupils. It is in poor mechanical condition and inadequate for today's enrollment of 870.

Added time for the instrumental music teacher who serves the Fairfax schools one day a week. Cost — $1,700, or 3 per cent of the total.

Fairfax has not had a school tax increase since 1954. Annual operational cost per pupil has increased in that time from $240.57 in the 1954-55 fiscal year to $306.10 this year, the committee reports.

The Fairfax Citizens Committee for Education is headed by Mrs. Joseph T. Lareau and Lawrence Herman, co-chairmen Its board comprises Jack Cimino, Harland Hennessy, Mrs. Fay Jensen, Jack Uhte and Stryker Warren.

Courthouse Evacuation Plan Adopted

County employees evacuated from the courthouse and courthouse annex in time of emergency will assemble in the playground of St. Raphael's School, it was decided yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The board was advised in a letter from Alan Bruce as secretary of the safety commission that permission has been obtained from the church school to use its property in time of need. It accordingly incorporated a section in emergency instructions adopted last March 17.

The commission decided an assembly point should be provided as a result of a recent test evacuation.

On suggestion of County Fire Chief Charles Reilley, the board agreed that one member will henceforth attend each monthly meeting of the safety commission, serving in rotation.

Veterinarian To Talk To Horsemen's Club

Dr. P. J. McDermott of the Fairfax Veterinary Clinic will speak on the care, feeding and common ailments of the horse to the San Geronimo Valley Horsemen Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Lagunitas School.

The horsemen held a ride and camp-out over the weekend in the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area.

DOUGLAS R. HORTON
Gets telephone job here

PT&T Names New Manager In San Rafael

Douglas R. Horton will take over tomorrow as San Rafael district manager for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

He succeeds L. T. Marshall, who has been manager of the San Rafael district since 1955. Marshall has been named Napa district manager.

Horton comes to San Rafael from assignment as general representative in the company's California administration offices in San Francisco. His duties in San Rafael will concern commercial operations in the 11 Marin County exchanges.

A native of Dallas, Tex., Horton joined the telephone company 13 years ago as a commercial representative in Salinas. He was Mountain View telephone manager from 1951 to 1954 when he transferred to the company's secretary-treasurer's office.

Horton and his wife, Lorraine, and two sons, Douglas, Jr., 10, and Jeffrey, 7, live in Sunnyvale. They plan to move shortly to Marin.

Marshall will leave a number of key civic posts when he is transferred. These include director in the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, the San Rafael Senior Citizens Council and the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce. He also is active in the San Rafael Rotary Club.

BETTER THAN 'NYET'

Whatever Else, Nikita Learned Word 'Okay'

NEW YORK (AP) — At least one bit of genuine, home-grown Americana rubbed off on Nikita Khrushchev — the little word "okay."

It's a breezy, friendly term, born of a people who like to make up their language to suit the occasion.

Nikita liked it.

"I hope we will be able to use more and more in Russia that good short American word 'okay'" he said as he left this country.

When he got home Monday he met cheering crowds in Moscow with a grin, a wave and by calling out "okay."

NATIVE SLANG

It's an adjective, a verb, an assent, an approval, a piece of native slang that has become a part of the international dialect.

Whatever its use, it denotes the positive, the agreeable.

In that light, it has over the years caught the world's ear.

Scores of stories have circulated about its origin — that it came from a Choctaw Indian phrase, "Oke Hoke," signifying, "yes, it is," or that Gen. Andrew Jackson started it when he said, after examining the papers of an accused man, Amos Kendall:

"Tie up them papers. Mark on them O.K. By the eternal, Amos is 'oll kurrect' and no mistake."

BEST ACCOUNT

Most thoroughly authenticated account seems to be that the word began in 1840 as the name of New York's Democratic "O.K. Club," which was supporting Martin Van Buren for the presidency, and took the initials from his home village, Old Kinderhook, N. Y.

The letters, "O.K." then became a sort of battlecry of other Democrats.

Schoolmarms once sought gallantly — but in vain — to suppress the word as a crude colloquialism and bad grammar. British language purists have denounced it as part of the "gibberish of morons" and a sign of "vast illiteracy."

But in America, with its tall talk, its resistance against rigid formalism and its fancy for the bold original, the word became one of the most frequently used in the nation — both on paper, and in speech.

It is used millions of times daily, on government documents, on industrial reports, on interoffice memos, in conversation—in the racy give-and-take of U. S. life.

Woodrow Wilson, the Princeton professor who became president, was the first chief of state to use the word on official papers. This helped to popularize it on the international scene.

The Internation Telecommunication convention, in 1932, made "O.K." the official world symbol for "we agree." The British privy council ruled officially that the term is proper English.

Finally in 1941, the staid London Times gave its endorsement, saying such terms "make possible a certain informality of mood or approach which is otherwise not attainable."

The word can be spelled many ways, as "okey," "okeh," "okay" or with just the letters, "O.K." It has bred a host of derivatives, "oky doke," "oky-doky" and "oky-dory."

Just about any approving definition fits it, such as "all right," "fine," "agreed," "correct," or "all's well." However you slice it or spell it, if Nikita now prefers it to "nyet," that's okay.

Fairfax Planning Fete For Opening Of Bridge

A ribbon-cutting ceremony and a parade will highlight the celebration marking the opening of the new Bon Air Bridge linking Larkspur and Greenbrae.

No date has been set for the opening, but the Larkspur Chamber of Commerce is making plans for the celebration.

Chamber president Oakley W. Dexter Jr. will appoint a general chairman who, in turn, will name a celebration committee to do the final planning.

School bands will be invited to participate in the parade. The possibility of a talent show also has been discussed.

Members of the Larkspur City Council and the Marin County Board of Supervisors will be invited to take part in the celebration.

The Larkspur approach to the new span should be completed "within a few weeks," Larkspur City Manager Ronald E. Piper said today. The work is being done by O. C. Jones and Son of Berkeley.

The bridge, spanning Corte Madera Creek, was built some months ago.

Homestead Family Invites Picnickers

Residents of Homestead Valley have been invited to hold a potluck picnic Saturday afternoon in Stolte's grove, according to Paul Thurston, spokesman for the Homestead Improvement Club.

The redwood grove at Montford and La Verne avenues is owned by the Stolte family. Thurston said the family has invited Homestead residents to use it Saturday starting at 2 p.m.

Thurston said the grove is one of the areas being considered for its recreational possibilities for the improvement club when it completes sale of Brown's Hall, now on the market.

3 Bills By Rep. Miller Become Law

The effects of dumped radioactive wastes in Pacific coastal waters, as well as natural factors, are to be taken into account in a survey of environmental influences on migratory fish under provisions of a bill sponsored by Rep. Clement W. Miller which has been signed into law by President Eisenhower.

The bill directs the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service to conduct research into the biology of marine game fish, including the California coast's salmon and steelhead.

Two other recently enacted bills sponsored by Miller are aimed at facilitating the immigration of foreign dependents of Mr. and Mrs. Pietro Pescio of Napa and Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Pluard Jr. of Arcata, Humboldt County.

The legislation makes possible the early immigration to this country of a 17-year-old niece of the Pescios from Italy and the widowed daughter-in-law and six-year-old granddaughter of the Pluards from Japan.

Milk Bank Makes Appeal For Donors

An urgent appeal has been issued by the Mothers' Milk Bank for milk donors. The present supply of mothers' milk, essential food for many sick and premature infants, is at a dangerous low. Unless it is replenished, service will have to be suspended in some areas.

Mothers' milk is supplied free of charge on doctors orders to babies who need it. Deliveries are made from the Milk Bank in San Francisco to a large area and even as far as Southern California. Nursing mothers who supply their surplus breast milk to the Mothers' Milk Bank are paid.

The Marin Unit of the Mothers' Milk Bank is engaged in securing and instructing milk donors, and transporting the milk to the bank in San Francisco by way of Marin General Hospital. Mrs. David Bradley Hudson is chairman of the unit and Mrs. W. D. Tryggestad is the registered nurse.

At a recent meeting of the unit in the Mill Valley home of Mrs. Josiah N. Knowles Jr., plans were made to intensify the search for milk donors to help meet the present shortage.

Knit Shirts

Men are showing increasing interest in comfort-making, easy-to-wear knitted shirts. As a result, knit-wear shirts are in greater supply and variety than ever before.

District Official Will Make Visit To VFW Auxiliary

Mrs. Glenn Davis, 16th district president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, of the United States, will make her official visit and inspection of the Donald V. Westlund Auxiliary to Post 7816, tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Veterans' Hall, Novato.

Mrs. Davis will be welcomed by Mrs. Harold Harker, president, who will preside over the business session and social to follow.

The president, secretary and treasurer, will meet with Mrs. Davis at 7:30 p.m. prior to the session for inspection of records and books.

Many district officers, chairmen and members of other auxiliaries, are expected to attend this meeting and get-together.

Reports of the 12 major chairmanships and their activities will be read.

Mrs. Dave Heifner is chairman of the refreshment committee and will have Mesdames Virgil Westlund, Frank Rebello, Thomas Wiggin, George Scherba, James Sonnikson and Charles Thompson as her committee co-workers.

Star Of Sea YLI Lists Activities

Mrs. George Hospador, president of Star of the Sea YLI in Sausalito has announced the dates of events taking place in the near future. Today a card party is being held at the home of Mrs. Charles Kircher in Tiburon. Following the regular meeting on Oct. 13, chairmen for the evening, Mary B. Smith and Myra Murphy, have planned a silent auction.

The Parish Festival, taking place Saturday, Oct. 31 and Sunday, Nov. 1, will include a dinner on Sunday to be sponsored by the YLI. The two-day event is open to the public.

Marin Women

Fairfax Club Will Meet On Oct. 6

Following the meeting of the Fairfax Women's Club at the clubhouse on Tuesday, Oct. 6, Mrs. Charles Brooke, program chairman, will introduce Margaret Dwyer Ritter of Tracy who will give "Theater in Miniature." Mrs. Ritter, who received her dramatic training in Colorado and on the west coast selects her programs from poetry, comedy, drama and fantasy. All her selections are memorized.

Mrs. C. W. Carle, president, will conduct the business session which begins at 1:30 p.m. It will be followed by the program and after it tea will be served by the hostess committee which includes Mesdames Volmer Anderson, D. C. Aregger, Carlo Baldassari, Edward W. Barry, J. J. Stutz and A. F. Adams.

The club's cake booth at the Grape Festival will be staffed by Mrs. Carle and Mesdames Jack Sypher, O. E. Finch, C. Baldassari, Walter Berta and S. R. Milliken.

The club holds two regular meetings every month of the year, except during July and August. The second meeting of each month is a short business session followed by a luncheon and an afternoon of card playing.

Six New Girls Welcomed Into Ross Scout Troop

"Play, Patter and Plans" was the theme when Girl Scout Troop 121 of Ross held its first meeting of the year recently at Bothin Youth Center.

Mrs. John McGee, leader, outlined the year's program and explained the organization of the troop, which will function for the second year as a unit composed of smaller groups divided according to grade level with individual leaders.

Heading the eighth grade group are Mrs. McGee and Mrs. George W. Sheppard; Mrs. L. G. Maclise and Mrs. John Scott will lead the seventh grade; in charge of the sixth grade are Mesdames Robert de-Fremery, T. C. Hosfeld, and Richard Zoellner. Fifth grade leaders are Mrs. Joseph Prola, Mrs. W. G. Holiday, Mrs. George Hart and Mrs. Roger F. Hooper.

Six new girls and their mothers were welcomed into the troop: Margaret Ingalls, fifth grade; Susan Kalman, Judith Owens and Deborah Picard from the sixth grade; Valerie Reyburn, Debbie Howe, seventh grade.

Mrs. H. D. Rothrock is chairman of the Troop committee. She will be assisted by Mesdames Arnold Nutting, treasurer; William Lang, out of doors; Alexander Black, commuity coordinator; Wagner d'Alessio, publicity, and Gerald Thomas Jr., equipment and supplies.

Novato Club Will Present 'Trans-World Fashion' Show

Ten attractive models have been chosen to show the latest feminine attire when the Novato Community Club stages its "Trans-World Fashions" benefit at the clubhouse on Machin avenue at 8 p.m., Oct. 8.

Additional charm will be provided by the waitresses, who will be selected from the student body at Novato High School.

Models will appear in a large variety of garments from a Marin shop and hairstyles will be a product of a Novato beauty salon.

The travel theme being worked out by Mrs. William Carpenter, decorations chairman, will be accented by a display of luggage accessories.

Miss Eleanora Lafranchi, general chairman, has appointed Mrs. J. D. Ruhlman as refreshment chairman, and Mrs. G. F. Lester in charge of publicity.

Reservations are being received by Mrs. Robert Thomas and Mrs. Boyd Wise, Novato.

Muir Temple Has A Gay Hobo Party

The Hobo Party given by Muir Temple, Pythian Sisters, Sausalito, at its recent meeting, brought out many original costumes. Prizes for the best were awarded, respectively, to Mesdames Leona Swanke, Anthony Bottini, and George Vogensen.

"Hobo" fare was served on a newspaper-covered table, which was decorated with bouquets of weeds. Games completed the evening.

In charge of the party were Mrs. Harold Owen, Mrs. Bottini and Mrs. Elsie Peterson.

The next meeting will be preceded by a pot luck supper.

Von Neumanns Return

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Von Neumann of Sausalito have returned from a 3,500 mile automobile trip covering most of the Western states. The Von Neumanns visited Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. A native of England, Mrs. Von Neumann (Eve) was particularly interested in the remote Indian villages of New Mexico.

MR. AND MRS. Thomas Glenn Hubbard are pictured following their recent wedding in the gardens at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kossub of Novato, The bride is the former Marilyn May Kossub.

Miss Kossub Weds Thomas G. Hubbard

In a garden ceremony at the home of her parents, Marilyn May Kossub of Novato became the bride of Thomas Glenn Hubbard, also of Novato.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kossub of Novato are the bride's parents and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hubbard of Novato, the parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white ballerina gown of French Chantilly lace and nylon net fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, long sleeves and fitted bodice. Her elbow length veil of illusion was held by a coronet of orange blossoms and seed pearls.

Dorothy Ann Kossub of Novato was maid of honor for her sister. She had a white and yellow gown fashioned with a scoop neckline, yellow sash and cummerbund and yellow and white rose headdress. She also carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kossub wore a blue silk print dress with patent accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin where she belonged to Semantor Gelanes sorority and was secretary of the student body. She has been employed with the state tax service in San Francisco. She is the sister of Warren and Dorothy Ann Kossub. Mrs. Jennie Winters of San Francisco is her grandmother.

The bridegroom was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin. He spent two years in the U.S. Army and is now employed by the Operating Engineers. He will enter engineering college in the spring of 1960.

The newlyweds will reside in Burlingame.

250 Attend Sun Valley School Dinner

The Sun Valley Parents Club served pot-luck dinner to 250 people on Thursday evening. A great variety of dishes were donated for the occasion.

Assisting Mrs. Fred Holzinger with the serving were Mesdames Roy Troutman, Don Dewing, John Gilleran and John Semorile. Mrs. T. D. Muirhead, den mother of Den 4, Pack 62, enlisted the aid of Scouts Jim Dewing, Michael Polk, Richard Himes and Roger Bockrath in helping Mrs. Dewing cover the tables and decorate them. Also assisting were Mrs. Roy Troutman and Mack Lancaster. Mrs. Muirhead made horseshoes from construction paper to be used with the various kitchen utensils as centerpieces, thereby denoting "pot luck." Name tags for the parents were made by the children. Miss Edwina Codoni, principal, assisted all groups.

After the dinner Mr. Mullen, custodian, with the help of Messrs. Fred Holzinger, John Gilleran, Roy Troutman and Ralph Green, restored the playground to order.

Mrs. R. E. Camper, room mother chairman, held a meeting of room mothers recently to discuss future activities. Representing the kindergarten and six grades will be Mesdames L. Nelson, William Kothgassner Jr., Merton Widergren, Keith Roberts, Ralph Green, Richard Camper, Harold Suhrke, J. T. McKeever, Mack Lancaster, Leo Miller, Thomas Fitzgerald, Donald Timmer, H. L. Burnell, Robert Johnson and Fred Holzinger.

Oct. 13 was the date set for the first hot dog sale.

Lu Sutton P-TA Plans Festival

The first membership meeting of Novato's Lu Sutton Parent-Teacher Assn. was attended by 165 parents and teachers. They met in the library for the "Get Acquainted" night.

Those attending got into the spirit of getting acquainted by singing a parody on "Getting To Know You."

Mrs. Claire Witzel's morning kindergarten won the meeting attendence award by having 33 parents present.

The business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Charles Coniglio, president, was followed by a short talk by Ray Monson, principal. Mrs. Coniglio announced the new co-chairmen, Mrs. Monson and Mrs. William Siler, for the P-TA's annual Halloween Festival. The Festival will be held Oct. 31, Halloween night, instead of the previously announced date of October 30.

Following the meeting, which included the unanimous acceptance of the year's budget, parents had a chance to see their children's rooms and visit with the teachers.

There will be no meeting in October because of the Festival.

Tri Delt Luncheon

Marin County Alliance of Delta Delta Delta will hold its annual fund raising luncheon at the Meadow Club on Wednesday, Oct. 21.

Spinning Spurs Elect Officers

At a recent meeting held at the home of the Trent Clevelands officers were elected and special appointments made for the coming term of Spinning Spurs Dance Club. They are:

Bonnie Hubbard's KUPBOARD®
FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS

Parties are "blessed events" in teenage language, but even if the guests bring their own "biscuits" (phonograph records) the food is still Mother's problem. WHITE STAR Tuna boats will please. Halve cucumbers and scoop out inside; chop this fine and blend with WHITE STAR Tuna, chopped celery, pickle, egg, mayonnaise. Fill the shells and serve on lettuce.

Have you tried new KARO Syrup, which comes in the high-boy decanter, and has a rich and delightful taste—maple-y and full bodied? With its easy-pouring consistency it's just the thing for hot cakes. Add a tablespoon of new KARO Imitation Maple Syrup to the batter, too—it adds new lightness to pancakes, makes them golden-brown, smooth-textured and flavorful.

★ To prevent cake filling from soaking into the cake, sprinkle each layer with powdered sugar before frosting. Tastes better, too!

Want something light and different for a luncheon? Sherried ROYAL TREAT Mushrooms make an elegant dish. Drain 1 large tin ROYAL TREATS. Saute 2 cups minced onions in 4 Tb. butter; add 4 Tb. flour, brown lightly, and add mushroom liquid, 2 cups bouillon and ½ cup Sherry. Cook to a smooth sauce, add mushrooms, and spoon into cream puff shells.

Fun for small fry: SPRECKELS Sugar "Candied Apple Kids." Insert wood skewers into stem ends of 6 apples. Stir until dissolved, 2 cups SPRECKELS Granulated Sugar, ¼ tsp. cream of tartar, 1 cup water. Add 8 cloves, cook over low heat to "crack" stage (300°). Cool pan quickly in cold water, add 1 tsp. lemon juice, ¼ tsp. red coloring. Roll apples in syrup, set on waxed paper to harden. Collars are paper napkins and doilies.

Come spring, come fall, babies keep growing, need protein in ever-increasing amounts. No wonder so many mothers put GERBER High Protein Dinners high on their lists. The "meaty" dinners, Strained and Junior types, are Beef with Vegetables, and Chicken, Veal and Turkey with Vegetables. Fifth and newest on the list: GERBER Cottage Cheese and Pineapple.

★ A Swiss baker is said to have invented baked meringues in 1720.

"Peanuts, peanuts, hot roasted peanuts!" The hostess with the mostest in her larder is the one who can produce a tin of PLANTERS Cocktail Peanuts. Put it into the oven a few minutes, so the golden-brown peanuts will be hot and fragrant, then pass the tin around. For an appetizer or a snack between meals, nothing tastes so good as PLANTERS Cocktail Peanuts.

When a car you recognize stops in front of your door, and an inner voice says "Bet they're hungry"—aren't you glad that you have VAN CAMP'S Tamales in the cupboard? Delicious tamales, all lean meat, wrapped in serapes of pure white corn meal, and packed in rich chili gravy—all you do is heat them and smile. No wonder they are called "Fiesta Food"!

There will be many a meal cooked in a sunny patio between now and Christmas. But whether you use a grill or an oven you'll enjoy a new experience when you bake vegetables in REYNOLDS FOIL. Onions for instance: roast them, whole and unpeeled, in REYNOLDS. Then open the foil and push back the skins, add butter and seasoning. These are delicious with lamb.

That's all for now! See you next week!

AT CHURCH MANSE

Westminister Presbyterian Women Plan Autumn Tea

A fall decor will prevail when the United Presbyterian Women of the Westminster Church of San Rafael hold their second annual autumn tea on Tuesday, Oct. 6 from 3 to 5 p.m. at the church manse, 267 Richardson drive in Strawberry.

Greeting the guests will be Mrs. Byron Jones, president; Mrs. John Del Mar, fellowship chairman and members of the fellowship committee Mesdames H. A. Tomrose, Vaughn Terry, William Schwendig and Verne Bonette.

The tea is held annually to introduce new members and guests to the members and officers and to each other. A table will be set up to exhibit the accomplishments of the past year and brochures on the church and the directory for the women's organization will be available.

Planning the decorations is Mrs. Charles Sheldon, assisted by Mesdames Jones and Donald Pickett. The refreshment committee will consist of Mrs. Vernon Libby, chairman and Mesdames William Gwynn and James Olson. Mesdames Sheldon and Del Mar will assist Mrs. William Ellingsen with the invitations.

The wife of the pastor, Mrs. Forrest Youngquist and elders' wives Mesdames Libby, Leslie Lippiatt and Charles Bigelow have been asked to pour at the tea table.

The Westminster UPW was organized three years ago shortly after the inception of the church. Purpose of the national organization is to unite with Christians everywhere in study and prayer, and service in support of such activities as National Missions and Christian Education. Members of the local group have carried out this purpose through individual circle study groups, sewing sessions benefiting the foreign missions and food and clothing drives for foreign and domestic missions.

In addition to Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Del Mar, officers are Mesdames Joseph Sheeks, vice president; Gerald Frellson, secretary; Sheldon, treasurer; Harry Winblad, world service chairman; Gwynn, program, and Donald Pickett, publicity and literature.

The individual study circles are named for women in the Bible and their chairmen are Eve, Mrs. James Ballard; Phebe, Mrs. Clifford Young; Priscilla, Mrs. Claude Chapman, and Ruth, Mrs. James Olson.

The local organization meets as a group once a month for programs varying from sewing luncheons to evening meetings with visiting missionaries as speakers. The circles meet monthly for Bible study and sociability. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend the tea. Information may be obtained by calling Mrs. William Gwynn in Belvedere.

SEQUOIA UNIT FALL FROLIC SET OCT. 17

"Fall Frolic" is the theme given to the party to be held by the Sequoia Unit of Friends of Arequipa at Rickey's Rancho Rafael on Saturday, Oct. 17.

Weather permitting dinner will be served in the lanai dining room and dancing will be to the strains of an orchestra.

The Friends of Arequipa are well known throughout Marin County for their numerous charities. Cocktails will be served at the homes of members preceding the affair. Those entertaining local and out of town guests include Messrs. and Mesdames George Britton, George Elwell, Len Ravani, George Grise, Jack Lauder, Justin Handlos, Scott Graham, Bert Sirvain, Ken Corsiglia, Robert Silberberg, Kenneth Treganowen and Alfred Massagli.

Steak Tip

Like a steak medium-rare? If you are using one two inches thick, place it about four inches from high heat and broil 20 minutes on each side. This suggestion is for a steak taken directly from the refrigerator, not for one at room temperature.

Pays To Know

Soft-cooking eggs? Use a deep saucepan fitted with a lid; add two cups of water for each egg and one cup extra water for each additional egg.

Branson Assn. Will Honor Marion Foster

Mrs. Howard L. Van Orden Jr. of Ross (Nadine Bergerot) has announced that the fall meeting of the Katharine Branson Alumnae Assn. will be held at the school on Thursday, Oct. 22 at 10 a.m.

This will be Mrs. Van Orden's first meeting as the new president. She succeeds Mrs. Robert W. Elliott (Barbara Lowe) of Ross.

On the agenda will be the introduction of the new officers. Mrs. Ivan R. Cousins Jr. (Dorothy McWilliams) of Sausalito will serve as vice president, Mrs. Girvan Peck of Kentfield (Sheila Greene) is the secretary, and Mrs. Robert E. Henderson (Sue Snell) of Hillsborough is the treasurer.

Highlight of the meeting will be the presentation of an honorary membership in the alumnae association to Miss Marion Foster. Miss Foster, one of the original members of the school facutly and the school's first athletic director, retired this year. All Bay Area alumnae and associate alumnae members are invited to attend this meeting to assist in the tribute to Miss Foster.

Club Will Hold Final Workshop

Carefully nurtured plants — many in attractive containers — will be offered for sale Saturday at the Outdoor Art Club's "Garden Goodies" booth, according to Mrs. Martin Gordon, Grape Festival booth chairman.

Featured will be bonsai trees in carved-out pumice stones, ferns and succulents in large and small redwood planters, and abalone shell dish gardens, as well as cuttings of many lovely and unusual varieties.

The choice selection is made up of club members' favorite garden specimens, as well as contributions of a wide variety of plants and flowers from nurseries all over Marin County.

Mrs. Gordon announces the last workshop in preperation for the annual grape festival is set for tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the clubhouse.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Dock Strike Near

NEW YORK (AP) — East and Gulf Coast shipping firms and longshoremen recessed another negotiating session today—still far from reaching a settlement to avert a crippling strike at midnight tonight.

Federal state and city mediators agreed there was no indication of a settlement before expiration of the current contract. The International Longshoremen's Assn. says no contract, no work.

A strike could tie up shipping and idle more than 81,000 longshoremen from Maine to Texas.

Bride Turns Student

Callas Won't Sing

BERLIN (AP)—Soprano Maria Callas today postponed a Berlin concert indefinitely bringing angry Berliners to the box office to demand their money back.

The fiery American-born opera star, whose Italian husband is suing for a legal separation, announced through her local agents that she couldn't sing Saturday night because her personal American conductor, Nicola Rescigno, is sick in London.

Agents for the concert said she refused to sing with another conductor.

Boys Shut Out

PEEKSKILL, N.Y. (AP)—It's a woman's world at Drum Junior High School.

The student body president is a girl. So is the vice president—and the secretary, treasurer, tax collector, court clerk and police chief.

Star Wins Divorce

Gregson, 21, wealthy one-time actor, is a student at Stanford University. Miss Britt, 24, accused him of mental cruelty.

Electric Bills Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The average electric bill for the nation's residential and commercial users rose slightly last year, the eighth straight year of a slow upward trend in power costs, the Federal Power Commission reported today.

The report showed that the average bill for 250 kilowatt-hours per month was $7.36 as of Jan. 1, an increase of six cents from the level a year earlier. The nation's average customer uses 280 kilowatt-hours per month.

Exposition Queen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Judy Stong, 17, a blue-eyed blonde from Spring Valley, near San Diego, has been named rodeo queen of the 15th annual Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo to be held in the Cow Palace Oct. 30 through Nov. 8.

Schweitzer Honored

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer was awarded the "Danish Nobel Prize" yesterday and honored at a dinner given by Danish Prime Minister H. C. Hansen.

The almost legendary, 84-year-old jungle doctor and philosopher received the "Sonning Prize" of 100,000 kroner ($14,000) at a Copenhagen University ceremony. Hansen handed him an additional 50,000 kroner at last night's dinner.

Plane Nicks House

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A biplane became disabled yesterday, then skimmed over telephone wires to land on a residential street, nicking a street sign, house and car on the way in. No one was injured.

The plane had been aloft spraying insecticide to eradicate mosquitoes thought to be bearing the disease encephalitis.

Fancy Tissue

CINCINNATI (AP)—A sedan stopped in front of Mrs. Herbert E. Keller's home Saturday and a blonde woman asked for something to aid a child with an upset stomach.

Mrs. Keller fetched a half empty box of tissues from the house and said, "Take them along if you like." The car drove off.

But when she told her husband of the incident that night, he said "Do you know what you gave away?"

"Just a few tissues," she said. "What do you mean?"

"Oh, something like $200 or $210," he said. "I hid the money in the bottom of the tissue box when I emptied my wallet last night."

Nelson Rites Friday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Funeral services for Donald M. Nelson, U.S. production chief during World War II, will be held at 1 p.m. Friday in the Church of the Hills at Forest Lawn-Hollywood Hills Memorial Park.

Cartoonist Dies

Bairnsfather was a soldier with the Warwickshire Regiment when he sent a bundle of his cartoons from the Flanders front to a London magazine.

Within weeks all Britain was following the exploits of the steel-helmeted, walrus-mustached Cockney soldier who brushed off the threat of death with sardonic humor.

Storm Slows Advance

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Carrying 100-mile winds, Hurricane Hannah today slowed its advance along a path weathermen say may send it crashing into the mainland on the heels of Hurricane Gracie.

The storm moved almost due west at 12 miles an hour, ship reports said. The latest fix placed the Atlantic season's eighth tropical storm about 970 miles east of Palm Beach, Fla.

Fighting In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Skirmishes with pro-Communist rebel forces and a major advance by Laotian government troops were reported today as the United Nations fact-finding committee prepared for a two-day inspection trip in the jungled mountains of north Laos.

Really Cool Cooler

Overcoats were furnished to prisoners as the temperature hovered around 33 degrees.

YOU'VE GOT TO SLOM DOWN HERE

Dennis Martinez is only 5, but even a 5-year-old knows there's something wrong with a Merced street painter's version of the word "slow" on pavement. Maybe the painter wasn't so dumb—motorists certainly are slowing down to get a good look at the garbled spelling. (UPI Telephoto)

Hamilton Field Favors Fluoridated Water

Hamilton Air Force Base—in line with national military policy—favors fluoridated water for its service personnel and families living on the post, it was reported today.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, said two Air Force dental officers called on her department to ask about prospects for fluoridation of public water supplies in the county.

The Air Force officers, Col. G. G. Garrison, Western Air Defense Force dental surgeon, and Col. C. W. G. Craig, Hamilton dental surgeon, told Dr. Albrecht that national policy is to provide fluoridated water on military posts.

If the local water supply is not naturally or artificially fluoridated for dental health, then the military base makes its own arrangements for fluoridation of the water supplied to personnel, the officers explained.

If community water supplies in Marin are soon to be fluoridated, the Air Force would not want to go to the expense of putting in its own fluoridation system at Hamilton, they said. But, on the other hand, it does not want to wait to make the benefits available to its personnel if community plans are too far in the future, they added.

ALMONTE DISPUTE

Sewer District Inspector Breaks New Connection

An inspector of the Almonte Sanitary District, during the dead of night, purposely broke a newly installed sewer connection at a house under construction because it was not properly connected or inspected, district directors were told at their meeting Monday night.

The house, at 99 California avenue, was being built by William L. McConnell of Sausalito, according to district chairman Jerome F. Downs.

"The directors had authorized our secretary-inspector, Valerian Skrylov, to take corrective measures after the builder had been formally notified to change the installation," Downs said.

Frank M. Gerlardi, Mill Valley druggist and former owner of the property, appeared at the meeting to protest the action.

The dispute centered around the connection to the district's mains, which Downs said was done without proper inspection.

Gelardi, who said he was one of the founders of the district, said "a committee of plumbers" is inspecting a new installation to determine whether it is in order.

Taking a final fling at the board, Gelardi said: "This is an example of the inefficiency and refusal of board members to extend themselves beyond meeting nights, which is one of the things increasing the costs of district operation."

Downs, however, asserted: "this action will have a desirable effect on future sewer connections and installation. No builder or contractor will put a pick in the ground in our district until he is sure he is on the right foot."

Hub School Plans Night For Parents

Brookside School in San Anselmo will hold its "Back to School" night for parents Oct. 7 from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Parents will be able to review their children's current school work and hear the objectives of the school year at individual grade level from teachers.

A Parent-Teacher Assn. meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room. Jean Stover, principal, will introduce teachers.

SEALING IN THE CORNERSTONE

Dr. E. Herman Westmoreland, president of the board of trustees, and Dr. Harold K. Graves, seminary president, set the cornerstone into the northeast corner of the administration building at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary. Documents concerning the new Strawberry Point campus were sealed in a copper box and placed behind the stone as week-long opening rites began yesterday. Classes for 314 students began Sept. 1. Hearing May Give Clue To New Route

The state Division of Highways late this year or early next year will hold a public hearing on widening and rerouting of Highway 101 through San Rafael which may give a clue to its plans for a San Rafael-Olema freeway route.

This was reported today by Richard L. Shirley, San Rafael Chamber of Commerce manager, after a mecting of Division of Highways representatives with the streets and highway committee of the San Rafael Chamber and representatives of San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax.

Moreover, it was disclosed at the meeting, the San Rafael-Olema link provided in the new state highway plan is likely to be a full freeway, with no intersecting streets at grade level, instead of an "expressway," as earlier indicated.

San Anselmo showed the proposed link as an expressway through the Hub City via Center boulevard on its recently adopted master plan. James M. Campbell, planning consultant who worked out the plan, reported he had conferred with Division of Highways officials in drawing it.

But Bert Crowell of the Division of Highways planning section told the meeting that the state agency frowns on expressways through cities. An expressway has access at grade level at infrequent intersections—but this access contributes to accidents and slows traffic movement, Crowell contended.

The hearing on the Highway 101 route through San Rafael will have bearing on the route selected for the trans-Marin freeway, Shirley pointed out, because it involves location of an interchange at the San Rafael entrance which will provide means for turning from Highway 101 to the San Rafael-Olema route.

The link to Marin's coast will pass through three incorporated cities—San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax. It is expected to follow the Sir Francis Drake boulevard route from Fairfax west. The routing through the cities has been the subject of much speculation.

HE SHOULD USE TV SET FOR PHONING

He hung up and tried again. This time he got "The Brighter Day." The third try brought in "Truth or Consequences."

Gartman reported the trouble to the telephone company. He said the people were skeptical but checked his line and found themselves tuned in to television.

Drunk Driver Fined, Placed On Probation

William Dale Johnson, 21, of 113 Blackstone drive, Marinwood, must pay a $200 fine and remain on nine months' probation for drunken driving.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him for driving while intoxicated at Fourth street and Lincoln avenue in San Rafael on Sept. 20.

Couple Devises Way To Predict Delinquency

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—A well-tested system for spotting potential delinquents in early childhood has been developed by Harvard Law School's famed husband-and-wife team of criminologists.

Prof. Sheldon Glueck and Dr. Eleanor T. Glueck announced they have perfected a series of "prediction tables" that can spot:

1. Children who are likely to get into trouble with the police.

2. Criminals who are likely to be trouble-makers in prison.

3. Prisoners who are most likely to commit new crimes if released on probation or parole.

4. Delinquents and criminals who have a good chance of reform.

It was described as the first complete system of predictive devices in the history of criminology. The Gluecks said this predictive approach "opens up a promising path through the dense forest of guess-work, hunch and vague speculation concerning theories of criminal behavior."

Capping nearly 35 years of research, the Glueck report was published today by the Harvard University Press under the title "Predicting Delinquency and Crime." It was based on statistical studies that traced thousands of criminal careers for five years or more.

Johnny is always harshly disciplined by his father . . . The mother generally leaves him to his own devices, letting him run around the streets and not knowing what he does or where he goes . . . The father dislikes the boy . . . The mother is indifferent to her son, expressing little warmth of feeling for him . . . or she is downright hostile to him . . . The family is unintegrated because, for example, the mother spends most of the day away from home . . . and the father, a heavy drinker, spends most of his leisure in bars and cafes, ignoring his family.

The Gluecks warned that "prediction tables" are not infallible. They cannot replace the human judgments of judges and others.

ALASKA BATTLE

Dog Fights Off Bear To Save Colonel

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—A female sled dog named Red fought a bloody battle with a polar bear to save the life of Col. E. D. Feathers, the Alaska Air Command reported yesterday.

The colonel, commander of the floating weather station in the icy Beaufort Sea, met the 275-pound bear in the afternoon semi-darkness. The bear lunged.

"I tried to make it to my quarters some 75 feet away," the colonel reported. "I couldn't get much traction in the ice and snow. Just when it seemed the bear was on top of me, Red attacked him from the rear."

Red was mauled severely but will live, the report said.

Audubon Group To See Trip Across Africa

Colored slides depicting a journey across Equatorial Africa by William S. Picher of Belvedere will be presented at the monthly meeting of the Marin Audubon Society at 8 p. m. Friday in Room 40 of the chemistry building at College of Marin.

The public meeting also will include a talk by Dr. William R. Eastman Jr. concerning the habits, identification, food and nesting of the marsh hawk, a bird native to the Pt. Reyes area.

The meeting will be followed by a field trip Saturday, beginning at 9 a. m. from the Inverness Store, during which the group will explore the Pt. Reyes Peninsula.

The society also is planning a benefit barbecue at 1:30 p. m. Oct. 18 at the Rose Valley Wildlife Sanctuary, 376 Tiburon boulevard, Tiburon, announced Mrs. B. K. Dushee, chairman.

Reservations for the barbecue may be made with Mrs. Guy M. Milner, 1629 Fifth avenue, San Rafael. The event will benefit the Rose Varrall Wildlife Sanctuary and the Dicky Memorial House, said Mrs. Dunshee.

The society also is giving financial aid toward the preparation of a sound and color movie of the proposed Pt. Reyes National Seashore area, Mrs. Dunshee reported. Donations may be made out to the "Pt. Reyes Film" in care of Dr. T. Martin Griffin Jr. at 313 Goodhill road, Kentfield.

Board To Receive Concert Report

A report on the summer concert season will be given at the annual meeting of the Marin Music Chest board and founders at 3 p.m. Monday at the Frances Young Art Gallery of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Officers for 1959-60 also will be elected at the meeting.

County Seeks Data On Land It May Buy

Further information on the precise status of 19.12 acres of choice waterfront land offered Marin County for $41,000 by the federal government for recreational purposes is to be dug up by the county planning commission as a result of instruction yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

A preliminary title report on the surplus property has been obtained from the California Pacific Title Co., according to a letter from E. Warren Mc Guire, assistant county counsel, who sought it as result of a Sept. 1 instruction from the board.

It indicated all well with four "exceptions" on which Supervisor Vera L. Schultz of Mill Valley, who has actively supported acquisition of the property, moved that light be sought with aid of the planning staff.

Two rights of way are held by Pacific Gas and Electric Co.; there is provision for a 20-foot lane which Mrs. Schultz thought might have to do with the rights of way, and also there seems some provision for navigation and fishing restriction in certain tidelands.

Bottles Thrown Into Ocean In Test Of Currents

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is conducting an experiment which seafarers and other curious folk have been trying since man took to the sea in ships.

The coast and Geodetic Survey began tossing 2,000 empty soda bottles into the Atlantic Ocean last week to find out where the currents will carry them.

The rubber-stoppered glass bottles are being released 10 to 35 miles offshore between the eastern tip of Long Island and Boston.

Inside each bottle are two cards. One, visible from the outside, says "break this bottle." On the other the finder is asked to write the date and place the bottle was found, then mail it to the Coast and Geodetic Survey's Washington headquarters. Postage is prepaid.

The nimble-fingered will be able to remove the cards without breaking the bottle and keep it as a souvenir. But the survey said the bottles have no refund value.

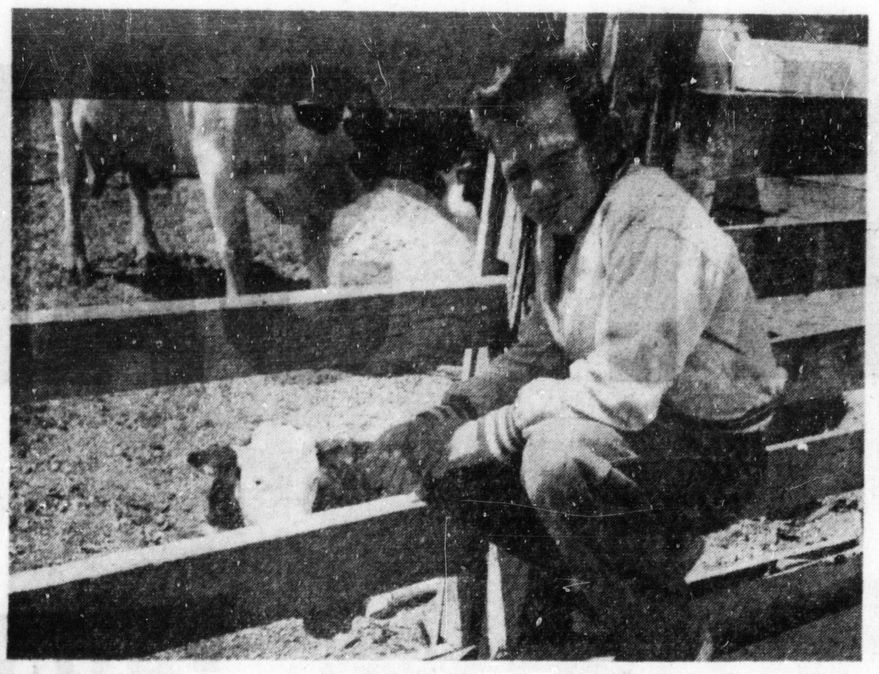
PET FROM THE WILD—These boys at St. Vincent's School find a raccoon makes a fine pet. The school, with its farm and broad acres, provides healthy environment for many boys from shattered homes. It is one of 18 Marin County agencies participating in proceeds from the United Crusade, now under way. (Les Walsh photo)



PET FROM THE FARM — This St. Vincent's boy is learning something very practical while making a pet of newborn calf at the school's dairy. St. Vincent's School supplies much of its own food requirements from farm which boys help attend.

Realty Loans Made

Marin County real estate loans totaling $585,634 have been invested during the first eight months of 1959 by Prudential Insurance Co., Willard M. Hansen, Northern California regional manager for the company's mortgage loan department, said today. The entire sum was for residential purposes.

Steps Taken To Check Sewer Odors

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors announced at their meeting Monday that compressors have been installed at the two pumping stations which have been the source of complained-of odors.

Open sumps in the stations have also been capped, it was reported.

The capping and compressors were installed over the weekend on a 30-day experimental basis. Meantime, sludge pumps continue to operate.

District secretary Edwin S. Long said the 30-day test will aid directors in determining whether a permanent installation should be made. He said cost of permanent equipment had been estimated at $23,000.

In a letter read Monday night, Garth Bassford wrote he is planning construction of a large apartment house adjacent to the Main street pumping station

Branch Jail Suggested To Meet Space Lack

Serious overcrowding in the Marin County Jail is just around the corner, the county supervisors were told yesterday in a letter from Alan Bruce, assistant county administrator.

Although the capital improvement program includes a new jail by 1968, the sheriff, district attorney, public defender and administrator were stated to be in agreement that a branch jail will be needed before that year.

"Minimum security is cheaper to build for than maximum security," said the letter. "It becomes uneconomic to house prisoners requiring minimum security detention in a maximum security jail at the point when the number of such prisoners is sufficient to allow efficient operation of a branch jail."

The letter suggested that the board authorize the sheriff and the county administrator "to request expert assistance from the state Department of Corrections for a survey of jail needs in Marin County."

Supervisor William D. Fusselman called attention, however, that surveys of jail needs were made in 1953 and 1957. He suggested that these be checked.

Administrator Donald A. Jensen agreed to look into the earlier surveys.

Bay Model To Be Closed Weekends

The San Francisco Bay Model in Sausalito, a working hydraulic replica of the bay, will be closed to the public on weekends beginning Oct. 10.

Col. John S. Harnett, San Francisco District Army engineer, said a cut in government funds was responsible for curtailment of tours. The model will be open for the last time on weekends next Saturday and Sunday. It will continue to be open to the public Wednesday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

School Needed Money A Century Ago, Too

By JOHN W. ABBOTT

A few weeks ago, some long-forgotten records of St. Vincent's School for Boys, Marin's oldest United Crusade agency, were discovered by an inquisitive engineer who regarded a long-locked safe in the office basement as a challenge to his professional skill.

The safe, previously thought to be empty, proved to be the repository for some 22 volumes of records covering the school's history since its founding in 1855.

The matter-of-fact entries in the journals evoke memories of the colorful era of California's earlier days. A boy of 7 comes to the school from Dutch Flat. The year is 1855. A little boy named Joe is brought by neighbors from San Francisco. The explanation recorded is, "his mother is dead, his father went off to the Sandwich Islands and never returned."

The records take note of the steamer schedule between Pt. San Quentin and San Francisco, and mention is made of the hazards of the same journey when made by rowboat.

The problem of funds for upkeep of the school appears to have been as pressing then as today. With unvarying regularity there is listed in the account ledgers of those early days, in the Spencerian hand then in vogue, such items as "shoeing horses, purchase of wagon wheels, coal oil and candles, meat, fish and vegetables."

Today, as it has for more than a century, St. Vincent's, four miles north of San Rafael, carries on its mission of caring for boys who, for many reasons, must live away from their homes. Death, illness, divorce and separation of parents all play their parts in the situation, together with the inabilities of many children to adjust to the "freedoms" of the times.

There are on the average approximately 300 boys at the school, in ages ranging from 6 to 16. The average length of stay per boy is three years.

Academic instruction through the second year of high school is provided by a staff of nuns and laymen.

St. Vincent's is for many boys the only home they have ever known. Sports have their place in the daily routine, and St. Vincent's teams compete on equal terms with Marin and San Francisco football, basketball and baseball teams of comparable age.

A working farm of 1,300 acres enables the school to furnish about two-thirds of its own food requirements. Some idea of the worth of this activity can be gained when it is realized that wholesale value of the principal food items accounted for by the farm is in excess of $40,000 annually.

Despite this self-help, and funds realized from public sources, St. Vincent's incurs a substantial operating deficit. To bridge the financial gap, St. Vincent's has come to depend upon the generous help from contributors to the United Crusade.

It's a long span of time from the Gold Rush Days to September, 1959, but the boy from the broken home is still one of society's major problems. Your donation to the Marin Crusade will help St. Vincent's carry on its work in this field.

Line Of Bulkhead Meeting Subject

Members of the Marin County Flood Control Commission Monday evening will attempt to recommend establishment of a bulkhead line on the Saucelito Canal.

The meeting will be held in the courthouse at 8 p.m. Director of Public Works Marvin W. Brigham said members of the commission would try to decide upon a line for recommendation to the Army Corps of Engineers.

Their action is necessary after a decision by the Marin County Board of Supervisors last week asking for the establishment of a line, and for the suspending of dredging in lower Richardson Bay.

Doomed Man To Ask For Mercy

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Harold Almus Langdon, facing death for robbery, burglary, forgery, assault and attempted kidnap and rape, will appeal to Gov. Edmund G. Brown for mercy Friday.

All of the offenses occurred in the March 1958 holdup of a Los Angeles Western Union office, in which Langdon was also convicted of assaulting and beating the lone employee, a woman.

Woman Requires Rare Blood During Surgery

A Fairfax woman was reported "out of danger" at Ross General Hospital today after undergoing surgery last Thursday in which she required eight pints of her semi-rare type of blood.

She is Mrs. Lydia Marrion of 7 Acacia road, who reportedly needed the "A-negative" blood to stay alive during the four-hour operation to correct an internal hemorrhage.

Mrs. Marrion was the third patient within 20 hours to require this type of blood. Normal hospital stocks were exhausted by the sudden demand.

Twenty pints were sent to Ross and Marin General Hospitals that day from the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank of the San Francisco Medical Society. Two of four emergency shipments were delivered by the Highway Patrol.

This took more than one-third of the blood bank's entire supply of that type maintained for 60 hospitals.

Residents may next donate blood to Irwin Memorial Blood Bank at Marin General Hospital Friday from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Anyone who is in good health, between 18 and 60, and who hasn't made a donation in the last three months.

Catholic Priest To Leave Marin

Rev. Aloysius Sullivan, assistand director of St. Vincent's School for Boys and pastor of Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato in 1956, is scheduled to leave this week to become an assistant pastor in Palo Alto.

Appropriately, his new parish is named St. Aloysius.

Father Sullivan first came to St. Vincent's as principal in 1949. He held that post until 1956, when he served for a short period in the Novato parish, then returned to St. Vincent's, where he has been assistant to Msgr. C. J. McKenna.

At the Palo Alto parish, Father Sullivan will serve as assistant to Rev. Edmund Moss.

2 Bail Bondsmen Granted Continuance In Hearings

A continuance till 10 a. m. Oct. 22 has been granted V. James Stragnola and Joseph Pecora of San Rafael, bail bondsmen, in their hearings on charges being heard in San Francisco before Jerome Herst of the division of administrative procedure of the state Insurance Commission.

John L. Rockwell, San Rafael attorney, said two more witnesses are being sought to corroborate testimony on their own behalf by the respondents on Monday.

William O. Weissich, Marin district attorney, and Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos appeared yesterday and testified to Stragnola's and Pecora's reputation for integrity.

Also in evidence were letters of support from State Sen. John F. McCarthy; Marin Superior Court Judges N. Charles Brusatori and Jordan L. Martinelli; Roger J. Darrow, president of the Marin Title Guarantee Co., and Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa of San Rafael. Another letter in similar vein was understood to be sent for the record before the next hearing from Walter R. Castro,

Marin Man Arraigned On Pay Charge

E. W. Ringo, 40, of 10 Kinross drive, San Rafael, vice president of Transocean Air Lines of Oakland, was arraigned yesterday in Oakland Municipal Court along with the president of the company on a charge of violating the state Labor Code by failing to pay employees.

Ringo and Orvis M. Nelson, 52, of Danville, president, were given until Oct. 7 to enter their pleas in municipal court.

The two were arrested on warrants issued by Donald L. Kosteff, a pilot, who claimed he is owed eight months back pay by the company. The Alameda County district attorney's office has received complaints that a total of 50 employees are owed amounts totaling $142,000.

Language Credit Given Ross Youth

Mathew Hallinan of Ross, son of Mrs. Vincent A. Hallinan, has been awarded credit equal to a foreign language requirement on the basis of a placement test given at the University of California.

A 1959 graduate of Redwood High School, Hallinan was excused from the language requirement because his four years of Spanish at Redwood and Sir Francis Drake High Schools were equal to 12 units of university work, the test indicated.

ISLAND VANTAGE POINT

Scientists Awaiting Sun's Total Eclipse

FUERTEVENTURA ISLAND, Canary Islands (UPI) — Just before noon Friday the hot, subtropical sun that shines over this Atlantic Ocean island will be blotted out by the moon. It will be the first total eclipse of the sun this year.

For Canary Islanders it will be practically a once-in-a-lifetime phenomenon.

For the scientists who have been flocking here from many parts of the world during the past weeks, it is the focal point of past and future months of hard work.

The solar eclipse will occur when the moon, orbiting the earth, slips across the line of sight between observers here and the sun.

Looking through dark glass against the glare of the sun, an observer will see the moon gradually sliding across the face of the sun until it is completely covered.

During the "Twilight" when the sun is hidden the scientists expect the temperature to drop slightly, the trade winds to become balmier and any clouds to take on vivid colors.

The scientists chose this island, the most easterly of the seven forming the Canary Island archipelago and lying about 120 miles off the West African coast, because its southern end lies within the 68-mile wide band of the total eclipse.

There, right on the centerline of the band, scientists from the United States, Great Britain, Germany, Holland and Spain have set up their quarters and equipment.

During the two minutes and 40 seconds the eclipse will last, the U.S. groups hope to take 20,000 photos with an electric camera.

The group is headed by Richard Dunn of the Sacramento Peak Observatory.

Chasing the eclipse along part of its route—that starts over the Atlantic, crosses North Africa and ends over the Indian Ocean—will be a U.S. Air Force plane.

The plane, a supersonic F101B, will fly in the moon's shadow to extend the observations.

Two U.S. scientists, Michael Witunski and Edward Dibler, will operate equipment in the plane. They hope to be able to keep up with the eclipse for six minutes.

While the moon is covering the sun, the phenomenon will appear as a black blot with a glowing corona around its edge.

Among the aspects of the eclipse to be studied by the scientists are the spectral composition of the corona and testing for polarization, measurement of the radio-electric emissions of the corona and measurement of the radio-electric, radio-ionic and radio-cosmic transmission of the sun.

Completes Training

Marinites To Lead Discussion Groups

M. J. Lamperti of San Rafael, chairman of the taxation committee of the state chamber of commerce's North Coast Council, and Halsey Lyon of Sausalito, vice chairman of the council's industrial section, will lead discussion groups at the council's fall session Friday in Santa Rosa.

Lamperti will head a discussion of water development before a combined meeting of the agriculture, taxation and natural resources committees. Lyon will head a discussion of the new Fair Employment Practices law and other items.

San Pedro Dads Club Plans Meet

The San Pedro Dads' Club will have its semi-annual meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at San Pedro School.

The meeting will be open to mothers as well as dads. Guest speaker will be Ralph Phelps, principal of San Rafael High School. His topic will be the parents' role in education.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Two of the Dads Club's latest projects are the San Pedro recreational field and the school's underpass under San Pedro road.

Completes Cruise

Thomas P. Burns, Navy fireman, son of Mrs. Hugh S. Zimmerman of 160 Los Angeles boulevard, San Anselmo, has returned to San Francisco, aboard the supply ship USS Zelina after a four-month tour of duty with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Teacher Named New Novato Club Director

Russell Dreosch, teacher at Hill School, has been named as a new member of the board of the Novato Community Club.

Dreosch, who lives at 85 Granda Vista, replaces Egidio Baccaglio, who resigned last week.

Final plans have been made for the club's first social of the season, "Autumn Around the World," a fashion show set for Oct. 8 at 8 p.m. in the clubhouse.

1-Way Traffic Planned To Safeguard Pupils

As a temporary emergency measure to safeguard pupils of the new Lu Sutton School in Novato, the Marin County Board of Supervisors decided yesterday to arrange for one-way traffic on part of Center road between Diablo and Tamalpais avenues.

This action was taken after considerable discussion and following receipt of a letter from Supt. William J. J. Smith of the Novato Unified School District.

The letter called attention to a "hazardous and dangerous strip of Center road." In the afternoon Smith appeared in person to reinforce his warning.

"An increasing problem is evident when youngsters are coming to or leaving school," said Smith, describing a road barely wide enough for two cars to pass and where the children "have to dive for safety" when a bus comes along.

Initial appeal was to Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato, who expressed himself so much concerned that he was willing to sponsor whatever emergency remedy seemed best.

"A good solution is to widen the street," said Marvin W. Brigham, director of public works. But it was felt that either that or construction of a special walk would take time, during which an accident might occur.

Gnoss said that as making the traffic one-way was the best quick safeguard, he would move such action.

Chairman Walter R. Castro suggested that it's politically expedient to confer with property owners in such case, but it was brought out that discussions have already been held and that the hazard is widely appreciated.

"Make them understand that it's a temporary expedient to take care of the kids," said Supervisor William D. Fusselman.

Novato's Firemen Won't Sell Trees

Christmas trees will not be sold this year by the Novato Volunteer Firemen's Assn., it was decided Monday night at the regular meeting in the main firehouse.

In past years the firemen have operated tree stands to raise money for their benefit fund. An analysis last night of time and profit involved resulted in cancellation of the project this year.

SEE THE RESEMBLANCE?

This profile view shows the strong family resemblance between the all-new compact Corvair and Chevrolet's conventional line of passenger cars for 1960, according to Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corp. The Corvair is more than two-and-one-half feet shorter than the Impala Sport Sedan with which it appears. Dealers will have the Corvair and conventional models on display beginning Friday.

2 Cases Of Syphilis Reported In County

Two cases of syphillis were reported in Marin County last week, the Marin County Health Department said today. One was in San Rafael and the other in Novato.

Streptococci infections totaling 12 led the list of communicable diseases. Mumps was next at six. There were two cases of tuberculosis and two cases of measles reported.

Kids' Juke Box Tops Gift List At Store Opening

These are the two main gifts for which a drawing will be held at the close of two grand opening days, Friday and Saturday, at the new Toy Palace, 861 Fourth street, San Rafael.

Mrs. Mary Hasler and her daughter, Mrs. Jean Colombo, both 33-year residents of Marin County, as co-proprietors of the shop will give tickets for the drawing to all visitors during the opening days.

In addition a free gift will be presented to every child visitor who arrives accompanied by a parent.

The Toy Palace, opened in a new building, has been well stuffed with a wealth of wonderment for the children who themselves are a hobby for Mrs. Hasler and Mrs. Colombo.

Use Special Recipes In Quantity Cooking

Cooking and serving a meal for 50 is entirely different from preparing one for five. You'll soon discover this if you are heading a food committee for a club group this fall.

The menu will have to be considerably streamlined. Virtually failureproof dishes should be used. Foods that wilt upon standing must be avoided and foods that require lots of last minute attention will be a mistake.

To avoid the pitfalls that can occur when doing large quantity cooking, your first step should be to select recipes that have been developed for this purpose.

Fortunately, several food companies now provide large quantity recipes. Among them is a main dish called Meat Ball Rice Bake and a crisp salad with dressing.

MEAT BALL RICE BAKE
(50 servings)

8 pounds ground beef.
2 pounds cottage cheese.
3 tablespoon salt.
2 tablespoons pepper.
1 teaspoon powdered thyme.
⅓ cup Worcestershire sauce.
½ cup butter.
6 pounds cooked rice.
2½ cups finely chopped onion.
1 pound celery, finely diced.
1 pound green peppers, chopped.
2 tablespoons sugar.
1 No. 10 can whole tomatoes.
½ No. 10 can tomato paste.
2 pounds natural cheddar cheese, grated.

Combine beef, cottage cheese, salt, pepper, thyme and Worcestershire sauce; mix lightly. Portion with a No. 24 scoop and shape into balls. Brown in butter on top of range or in a 350 degree oven about 15-20 minutes. Combine rice, onions, celery, green peppers, sugar, tomatoes and tomato paste. Divide rice mixture into two pans (12 by 20 by 2½ inches). Arrange meat balls on top; pour meat drippings over balls. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Sprinkle grated cheese over top. Bake 10 minutes more or until cheese melts.

GARDEN SALAD, TANGY DRESSING
(50 servings)

4½ pounds shedded cabbage
1½ pounds shredded carrots
1 cup chopped green peppers
1 cup sliced green onions.
2½ pounds creamed cottage cheese

Dressing:
½ cup sifted flour
1½ tablespoons dry mustard
2 tablespoons salt
1 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons celery seed
¾ cup sugar
1⅓ cups vinegar
¼ cup catsup
1 quart buttermilk.

Combine dry ingredients in top of double boiler. Add vinegar, catsup and buttermilk. Beat until well mixed. Cook over hot (not boiling) water until thickened, stirring occasionally. Cover and cook over low heat 10 minutes longer. Chill thoroughly.

FOR DELICIOUS 'SWISS STEAK,' brown beef round, spread with mustard, and simmer with fresh tomato and union slices until the meat is tender and the sauce richly flavored and delicious.

Try This Swiss Steak Variation

When you're planning the week's dinners, here's a wonderful beef entree to include in your menus. A simple variation of "Swiss Steak," a thick cut of round steak browned and simmered with fresh tomatoes and onion slices, it is a delicious dish to enjoy while tomatoes are still in good supply.

With no extra liquid they cook down to richly flavored sauce, which you may thicken a bit, if you like. The beef is tender, juicy and wonderfully seasoned.

And if this particular way with beef becomes a favorite with you, as we predict it will, when fresh tomato season is past, substitute a number 303 can of tomatoes. You'll find they,too, with onion rings make a delicious and hearty main dish.

SWISS STEAK

2 pounds beef round steak (cut about 1-inch thick)
Salt
Pepper
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
3 large tomatoes
1 large onion, sliced.

Trim fat from beef and heat in skillet. Remove trimmings and brown beef in the fat. Sprinkle meat with salt and pepper, and spread with mustard on one side. Slice tomatoes over steak, and top with onion. Cover skillet and simmer until tender, about 1 to 1½ hours, adding a little liquid if needed. Drippings may be thickened slightly with a little cornstarch mixed with cold water, if desired.

Makes about 6 servings.

Vitamins For You

Canned Drinks: Dessert Shortcut

Add unflavored gelatin according to package directior to make molded desserts. Chopped fresh fruits or small berries used whole add extra flavor and color.

Experiment with flavors by mixing the contents of two or more cans of different flavored juices. For instance, blend lemonade with tropical fruit punch.

Orange-lemon fruit drink added to tropical punch makes an interesting and unusual sherbet that can be frozen in refrigerator ice trays.

Make The Kids School Lunch By The Assembly-Line Method

School's here — and so is the task of preparing school lunches day after day.

But it doesn't need to be drudgery. If you spend 30 minutes a day packing lunches, there's a way to cut this time in half by using a technique Henry Ford introduced in Detroit long ago.

It's the assembly line. All you need is a freezer compartment and a roll of aluminum foil. Make all the sandwiches for a week at one time, wrap them in foil, and freeze. Bake a cake and some cookies, wrap in individual portions, and freeze.

Comes school mornings and you have only to remove sandwiches and dessert from the freezer, wrap some fresh fruit or vegetables in foil, and lunch is ready. Frozen items will thaw in a few hours and be fresh and delicious for your school child.

Ham Salad Sandwich
on
Whole Wheat or Rye Bread
Deviled Egg
Celery — Carrot Sticks
Individual Fruit Pie
(Peach or Apple)

HAM SALAD SANDWICHES

2 cups ground, cooked ham
½ cup sliced stuffed olives
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
12 slices buttered whole wheat or rye bread

1. Combine ham, olives, Worcestershire sauce, mayonnaise, prepared mustard; mix.

2. Spread half the slices of bread with the filling; top with remaining slices; cut each in half.

3. Wrap in aluminum foil. If desired, may store in freezer for 2 or 3 weeks.

4. Yield: Six sandwiches.

Note: Will thaw at room temperature in about 3 hours.

Essential Food Values In Fruits And Vegetables

It is accepted today that one can eat plenty of energy foods and yet slowly starve for lack of necessary food elements.

Among the major elements provided for by fresh fruits and vegetables are vitamin C, vitamin A, calcium, folic acid, carbohydrates, iron, riboflavin and niacin.

In addition, these natural foods contain a large variety of elements of which the nutritional functions are not fully understood but which are, nevertheless, important. Apples, bananas, oranges, muskmelons, raisins, the legumes and white potatoes, for example, have been found experimentally to be among the best body alkalizers.

The bioflavonoids, found in the meat (but not in the clear juice) of oranges, normalize and strengthen the capillary system.

An important benefit of eating plenty of fruits and vegetables, including some raw, is provision of cellulose for the bulk that is essential for normal digestion.

How To Prepare A Medieval Meal

—Marigold petals are good in soup.

—Dittany of Crete, named in one medieval recipe as an ingredient for pepper sauce for fish, is important today in the manufacture of vermouth. It is also good in salads.

—Mallows, thought by medieval people to drive away witches, is used now by European and Asian country folk as a vegetable. Roots and foliage are cooked together, or the young green tops are added to salads.

Is Yogurt Your Kind Of Delicacy?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

It's centuries old. American families of Armenian, Syrian, Lebanese and Turkish origin have always used it. You meet it in Egypt and North Africa.

It may be called madzoon, laban or koumis. In this country it is usually named yogurt and in recent years has acquired quite a vogue.

Yogurt is milk inoculated with special cultures. It has a slightly tangy flavor and a custard-like consistency. Many people like yogurt best "as is," others enjoy it combined with other foods.

In New York City a luncheon and teatime restaurant in a large department store serves an exclusive yogurt cheese pie. A rich concoction, with a graham-cracker crust, the desert has its converts—and we're one of them. The following recipe yields the same haunting flavor as the cheese pie, but omits the cheese!

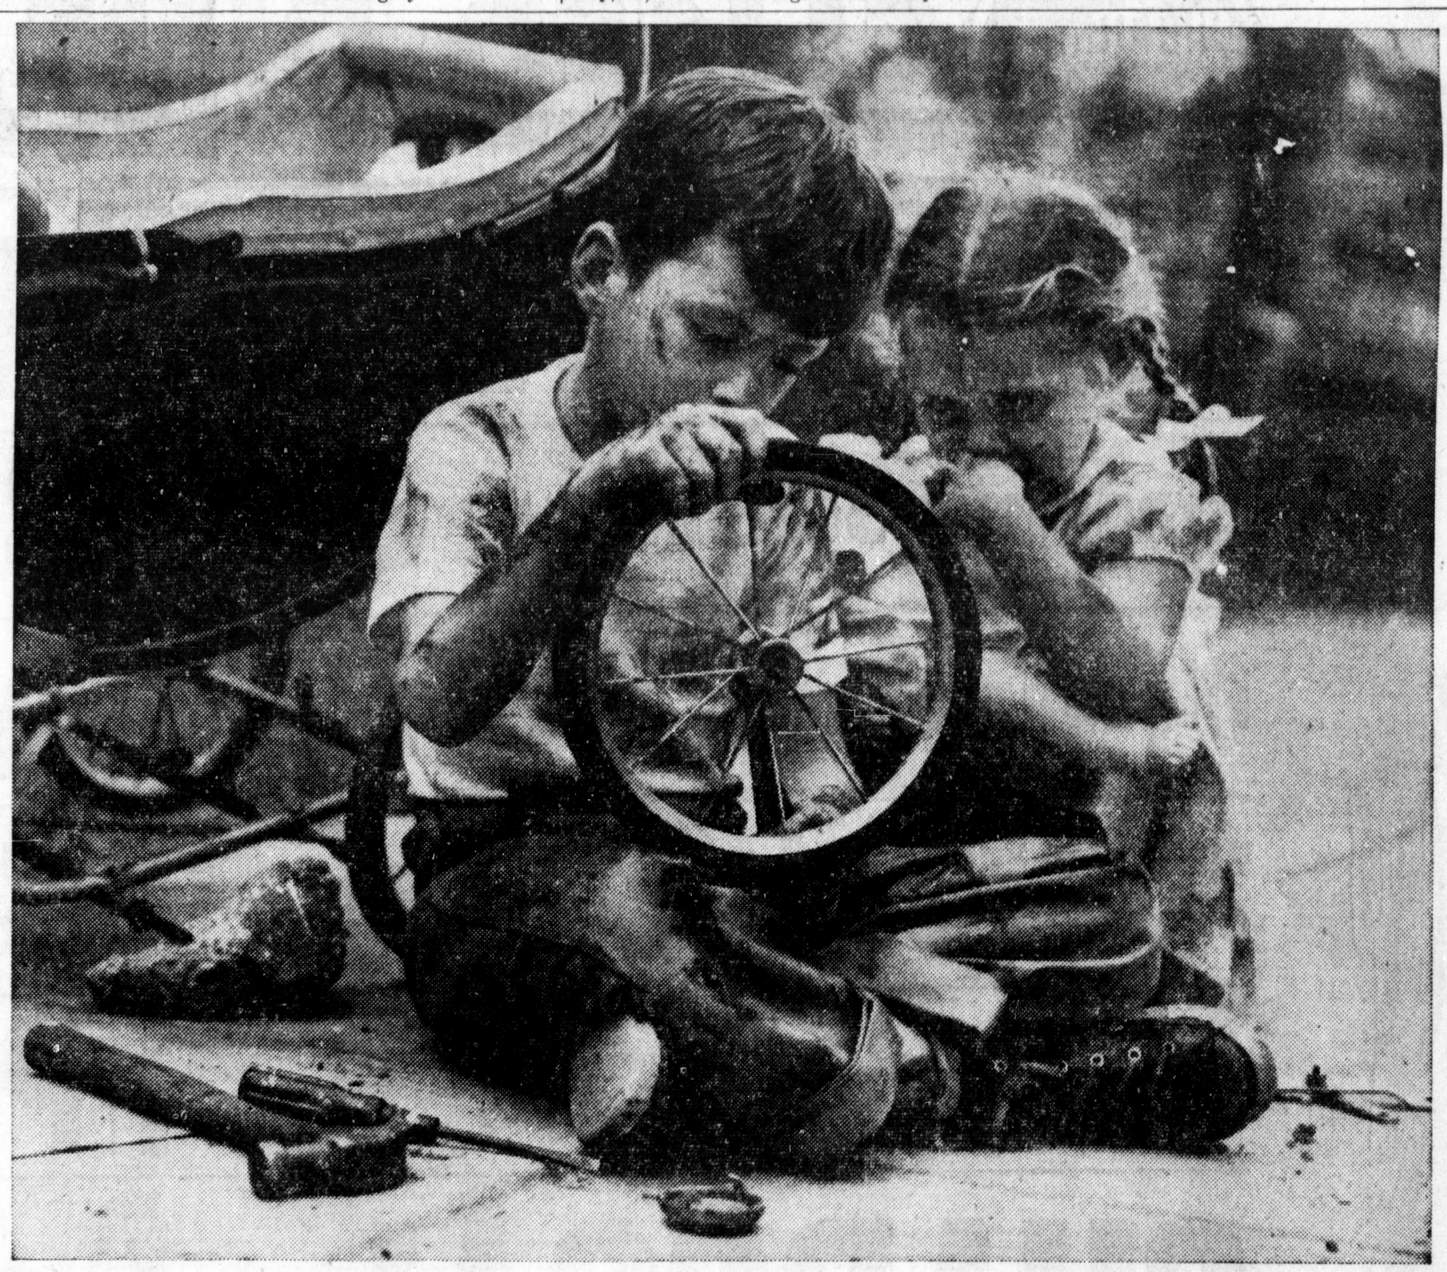
YOGURT ORANGE PIE

Ingredients: 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, 2 egg yolks, ¼ cup milk, ½ pint plaint yogurt, 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, 1 tablespoon honey, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1 teaspoon vanilla, coconut pie shell, orange sections.

Method: In top of double boiler, sprinkle gelatin over cold water to soften; stir over hot water to dissolve. Beat egg yolks lightly; blend with milk; add to gelatin. Cook and stir constantly over gentle boiling water until mixture coats a silver spoon; cool.

Cream the cheese, honey, grated orange rind and vanilla; gradually mix in yogurt, keeping smooth. Slowly stir in the cooled gelatin mixture; mix well. Chill until thickened—about 20 minutes. Beat until creamy and smooth—about 5 minutes. Pour into pie shell; chill until firm. Before serving, garnish with orange sections.

Coconut Shell: Mix flaked coconut (from a 3½-ounce can) with 3 tablespoons melted butter; spread over bottom and sides of an 8-inch pie plate; make sides as thick as bottom. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven 20 to 25 minutes; cool before filling.



It's a good thing that

Tide keeps on working after other suds have quit!

The dirtier the clothes, the harder Tide works. Tide doesn't stop cleaning till your whole wash is the cleanest clean there is.

Relief, Disappointment As Khrushchev Ended Tour

The sense of relief obviously came from the fact that no one had taken a shot at him or planted even a small, non-nuclear bomb in his plane or hotel suite.

The feeling of disappointment came from his concluding press conference and speech to the nation. They just didn't add up to anything important.

In his address to the United Nations the world's top communist had something definite to say. It wasn't merely that he urged world disarmament; he put it into definite focus—in four years.

Now we didn't believe he meant four years; we don't even believe one nation unilaterally could disarm in four years without seriously harming its economy. But Khrushchev expressed something which is uppermost in the hearts of every American, the desire for peace. Disarmament and peace are synonymous to many Americans.

Then Mr. K talked of increased understanding, of increased exchange of both goods and people, and an increasing recognition of each others views.

All this sounded fine so long as he was given his prepared speeches or when he was making his impromptu remarks.

But when he went on the air and was under the questioning of the newsmen at the Washington Press Club, he seemed to be a different man. Flip and smiling as before, he had changed from a definite, cooperative guest, to an evasive, unresponsive stranger. About the only definite answers he gave were that he was certain he liked communism better than capitalism and he was sure there would be a summit meeting before too long.

The final press conference pulled away the carefully nurtured picture of "Khrushchev the Friend" and left his true colors showing.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM THE JAILER

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

A PENNY FOR HIS FRIEND

Children are innately friendly and generous. But it often takes an unexpected incident such as the following to bring out these qualities.

An 8-year-old orphan boy was one of several youngsters to whom an old lady gave 5 pennies each and told them to go buy a candy bar.

As they crossed a bridge on the way to the store, one little boy dropped a penny into the water far below. Immediately the orphan boy rushed up to the crestfallen child and gave him one of his 5 pennies.

A teenage girl, shepherding the group to the nearest candy shop, quietly asked the 8-year-older what had prompted him to give up one of his pennies.

The little boy came right back: "He's my friend, isn't he?" He never mentioned the fact that he would not have enough to buy a candy bar for himself.

Cultivate carefully the slightest evidence of divine love working within a child. If ignored, belittled or treated lightly, the results may be tragic for the young person and the loss irreparable for all others.

"As long as you did it to one of these my least brethren, you did it to me."
(Matthew 25:40)

Thanks to You, O Holy Spirit, for revealing Your truth, goodness and beauty through young people.

MIGHT PROVIDE ISSUE

Ike's Moscow Visit, Just Before Conventions, Could Be Demo Boon

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Neatly packaged out of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting came some eggs—Republican eggs and all in one basket.

There is a proverb about that which begins with two emphatic words: "Don't put—."

It is a good question today whether the springtime meeting between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev in Moscow will be a greater boon to their respective grandchildren than to the Democratic Party. Springtime comes late in Moscow by American standards just as autumn comes early.

So, if grandpa is going to take the Eisenhower tykes to Moscow in a time of the spring thaw and blooming flowers it could be as late as June when the two chiefs of state next get together. It was Khrushchev's idea that the grandchildren should be in the Eisenhower party, and that they should see Moscow abloom and ablossom.

Very pretty! But June, 1960, is a politically critical month in the United States. Both national nominating conventions come up in July. The political word in recent weeks has been that the Democrats are lacking a crackling issue on which to base their 1960 presidential campaign.

An Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting just prior to the nominating conventions could give the Democrats an overriding issue.

During the month before the conventions, Americans will be reading and hearing of little else than the meeting of their President with the Soviet chief.

THEY WILL HAVE HAD from right now until the Moscow meeting to build up their hopes for a better world. The political party which can be tagged in the presidential campaign on charges of disappointing those hopes is likely to be defeated on election day.

The words uttered here and in Moscow since the end of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks at Camp David have been hopeful, confident, optimistic. The citizens are entitled to believe a beginning has been made toward better things. This was true, also, after the 1955 Big Four meeting in Geneva.

"IT IS MY JUDGMENT," Eisenhower said then, "that the prospects of a lasting peace with justice are brighter. The dangers of modern war are less."

The Big Four then turned over to their foreign ministers the specific issues to be resolved. Their meeting was an abslute failure and the world since has been on the brink of war.

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

A pageant, "The Golden Span," depicting 100 years of county history, opened in the outdoor amphitheater of College of Marin.

Paul Juette of the University of California won the 39th annual Dipsea race from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach.

Earl Dunphy was selected from 14 applicants to be postmaster of Sausalito.

First joint session in two months between management and officials of three Richmond-San Rafael ferry crew unions were planned, after the ferry had been halted by strike since July 1.

20 YEARS AGO

The complaint of Dr. John H. Brunings asking for an injunction against the City of San Rafael to halt work on the new yacht harbor project at the Mary street basin was dropped from the Marin Superior Court calendar, although this action was construed as a substitution for another line of attack rather than a suspension of all efforts to block the project.

Miss May De Souza of Olema became the bride of Manuel Nunes of Novato at a Nuptial Mass at Sacred Heart Church, Pt. Reyes.

The College of Marin library contract for $29,850 was awarded to John Kramer, San Francisco builder. The new structure was to be completed in four months.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

The Man Didn't Say It That Way

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the interest of accurate reporting and in fairness to Sen. Jack McCarthy, please note that your account of the Sept. 22 meeting of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, contained the assertion that "he was not sure Rockefeller would be a candidate in 1960."

In my report to the I-J, I said of Sen. McCarthy's talk: "He said he was positive Rockefeller would not run for vice president but is giving some thought to possibly becoming a presidential candidate."

Points About Tiburon Recall

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I should like to try my hand at clarifying some of the confusion that beclouds the recent recall action initiated by residents of the Tiburon Fire Protection District.

At the regular July meeting of the Fire Commission, Mr. Fred Mantegani suggested that the Commission should refrain from hasty action in formally notifying the Board of Supervisors that a vacancy existed on the Commission and that interested residents be heard before passing on any recommendation to the Board of Supervisors. To meet his criticisms, the Commission set its next regular meeting date as an open hearing, after which, it was understood, all letters, petitions, etc., would be forwarded by the Commission to the Board of supervisors to assist them in filling the vacancy.

In the subsequent weeks, the Commission received letters advocating Mr. Mantegani's appointment and a petition, apparently a duplicate of one submitted to the Board of Supervisors. Letters and petitions were also received for other individuals. Consequently, by not waiting until the next Commission meeting to present his application before the County Board, Mr. Mantegani, in effect, used the Fire Commission to prevent other applicants from receiving full and fair consideration by the Board of Supervisors.

It was for this reason alone that I have supported the effort to have this appointment confirmed at the ballot box in the only manner available.

I might point out to the residents of the area that current Fire Commission meetings provide a certain amount of entertainment. Former commissioners come down to ask if present commissioners are taking money illegally; local citizens make public apologies under legal pressure; commissioners produce homilies and mottoes at the drop of a hat; and, mirabile dictu, somehow the Commission continues to make progress in solving many of its inherited problems.

Rapid Learner Plan Questioned

Independent-Journal:

In Tuesday, Oct. 20, we taxpayers of San Anselmo Elementary School District will be asked to vote on a special tax increase for educational enrichment.

A question rises to my mind as to the adviseability of parts of this program — namely the rapid learner program which calls for both a guidance counselor and full time counselor to aid and instruct the classroom teachers in setting up this program. It has been stated this will also upgrade the teacher in all phases of classroom instruction.

I do not know if teachers need upgrading since I am not an educator, however, the thought occurs to me that while we may be upgrading, we may also be degrading our good teachers by thoughtlessly implying they are inadequate.

Is there no alternative? Must our good teachers suffer by our actions? I would hesitate in incorporating a program which may benefit some at the expense of others.

Have you ever thought what a playwright must suffer through when he pens a flop that closes after a week in New York? Here's a touching resume by Moss Hart:

First, he has to read the dismal notices in the daily papers. Second, there are the dour reappraisals in the Sunday drama section. Third, the critics on the weekly magazines take out their little hatchets. Fourth, he rereads the sour notices all over again six months later in old magazines in the dentist's waiting room. And worst of all, eight years later, when all presumably is forgotten, up pops the worst review again in some playgoer's anthology!

"How do you like your wife's cooking?" asked the newlywed's poker pal the first time he rejoined the fold. "Some brides," the rather new husband sighed, "make strange bread, fellows."

Myron Cohen wishes it to be known that he'd fed up with mother-in-law jokes. "I've got the sweetest, most considerate little mother-in-law in the world," he insists. "It's my wife I hate!"

If Soviet Wants View Exchange, Why Jam Voice Of America?

Mr. Khrushchev:

It has been welcome to most Americans to hear you say that you would like to see increased exchanges between our two countries.

As you put it — it is better to exchange visits than to exchange notes and it is better to exchange ideas than to exchange bombs.

That's fine, but during the present year some 10,000 Americans will have visited the Soviet Union while fewer than 400 Russians will have visited the United States.

NO DOUBT, Mr. Khrushchev, you can understand better than we do why so relatively few Russians participate in this healthy tourist exchange, but in part because the size of the exchange on the Soviet side is so small, it becomes the more important to exchange ideas in addition to exchanging visitors.

No passports, no visas, no dollars, no rubles, no tickets are needed; in fact, nothing is needed to exchange ideas but the willingness to do so.

Mr. Khrushchev, the truth is that nothing is needed but Russia's willingness to permit it to be done.

I AM SURE I speak the views of the great majority of Americans when I urge you, Mr. Chairman, to reconsider earnestly your decision to keep on jamming the "Voice of America" broadcasts in the Soviet languages.

I know that you have given your views on this subject in answer to questions. I would not assume to appeal to you to re-examine your decision unless there was evidence that your understandable opinion rests upon a misunderstanding of the facts.

You have said that the "Voice of America" would not be jammed "if it were a friendly voice," but that because it is "unfriendly" it is not welcome.

Mr. Chairman, if you truly believe in an exchange — of people and ideas — between our two countries, I urge you to look over a cross-section of the "Voice" broadcasts for a week or a month — any week, any month — and see for yourself whether these broadcasts are unfriendly or provocative — or just informative.

I KNOW THAT you told Walter Reuther that you would "protect Soviet workers from capitalist propaganda." Was this, perhaps, a misstatement in the heat of debate?

Obviously there can be no real exchange of ideas between us if American views, through the "Voice" broadcasts, are to be blacked out on the ground that they are "capitalist propaganda."

How Mr. Khrushchev, can you say you favor the wider exchange of ideas and then prevent that exchange by jamming?

P.S.—ARE YOU aware, Mr. Khrushchev, that your government spends the equivalent of $185,000,000 a year just to jam Western broadcasts while the U. S. spends only $100,000,000 a year on its entire information program?

By RANDALL GOULD

I-J Rathole Needs Plugging; There's Just Cat For The Job

In an otherwise fine newspaper operation, the Independent-Journal has—I speak metaphorically — a rathole to be plugged. What I mean is that we need an office cat.

Cats are bad for the circulation of mice and good for the circulation of newspapers. Once upon a time I proved it and caused the owner of the paper to term a cat our greatest asset.

What he meant, I suppose, was that the loss of Supercat Buttercup would have been a cat-astrophe.

ALL THIS happened around on the other side of the world in Shanghai, China. But the lesson applies in Marin where by careful observation, I have found the cats up to top feline standards; smart and fat.

They have to be smart, I fancy, or the raccoons would get 'em. All cats everywhere are smart by definition; lacking smartness, a cat wouldn't be a cat, but just a working stiff like the rest of us.

As to fatness, the cats of Marin deal with and charm the housewives of Marin, such as my wife; and that keeps them plump. Chester, the black and white wolf in cat's clothing from two houses down Hillside in Mill Valley, has my wife his helpless slave From what I hear he has quite a constituency in this fix and he might move in on the Independent-Journal any time — it's quite a distance but cats range about as far as Russian rockets by means that nobody knows. Science will never figure cats.

BUTTERCUP DIDN'T run our American daily newspaper in Shanghai but there was only one reason — he didn't care to. No cat ever ran any newspaper because cats are too smart. But a number of them have run a number of newspaper men and women.

He was the biggest cat I ever saw or hefted -- a short-legged heavy-chassised critter, a bland sort of feline Buddha who mostly sat around like all Buddhas. When he wanted to he could be mighty spry.

Once every evening he was spry and that was after I had shut him out of the bedroom. This was just after the war, and the Japanese had stripped every radiator, pipe and boiler from the whole of shanghai including our building.

NATURALLY THINGS were pretty cold in the winter time and after lights-out, things got colder. Buttercup found that a bed with an electric blanket on it was mighty cozy. But having Buttercup across your feet was like offering hospitality to a young heifer, so he wasn't welcomed.

It was impossible to lock the bedroom door but it could be latched. The operating mechanism was a horizontal handle. In less than no time Buttercup learned to fling himself against the door, pulling down on the handle. The door would swing open and in would come Buttercup.

So I figured what seemed a slick trick. The door opened into the bedroom so I stood inside, put a basin of water just outside, and closed the door with its latch just over the water.

"Simple!" I announced. "Either Buttercup will catch on that it doesn't pay to catch on, in a manner of speaking, or he'll jump and then come a cropper in the water.

THAT NIGHT at 11:30 there was the accustomed thump against the door, and an instant later Buttercup — dry and smug — was on the bed again.

"This I've got to see," said I. Light turned on and oor pulled all the way open, I did see indeed. The pan was well off to one side and tiny drops of water on the floor marked its journey.

That dratted cat had sized up the situation and nudged the pan over to where he could leap to the handle and drop dry.

As far as I was concerned there wasn't any bigger news that day so I put Buttercup in the paper. Nothing drew more readers or a bigger reaction.

IT SEEMED THAT everybody in town that read English owned a cat, a smart cat, a cat with at least one exploit on the record worthy of matching against Buttercup's. They all wrote in. They kept writing in, and we kept printing what they wrote; a file of what-all they all wrote would have needed a library, and should have had one.

Anywhere that I do today I am likely to run into contributors to the affair Buttercup. There's at least one right in Mill Valley in the person of Jimmy White of Associated Press. At last report he had three in assorted colors.

So if the I-J needs more readers, and more contributions from readers, I have the infallible prescription — get a cat and write about it.

Going Hunting ? BE CAREFUL!

This fall, some 20 million Americans will go hunting. They will be tramping wood, field and stream, scanning the skies for the quail and the pheasant, looking into the forest recesses for the deer and the bear. They will be carrying loaded guns. That will mean special care, to avoid accidents.

In the first place, experts say, hunting by pairs is the safest. More than that means there are too many guns to watch. One going alone can get into trouble in a boat, or in a swamp. Once in the field, the hunter must exercise good judgment. He must know how to carry a gun properly, how and where to point it, how to handle it when crossing a fence or obstruction. He must obey laws against trespassing.

First Grade All Important; Bad Start Can Prove Costly Later

"My son is afraid of school," a worried mother writes. "Less than a month ago he was excited and happy over attending. Now he cries and is miserable. I don't know what is wrong. He is 6. He's in the first grade. Will his attitude improve? Isn't it important for him to succeed this year?"

Do all you can to help him succeed. The first grade is the most important grade of all. If he gets off to a good start his future will be bright. If he makes a bad beginning it may be dark.

Start by talking with his teacher. Ask if she has noticed the change in him. Ask about your boy's success in school. The chances are you'll find he is doing poorly. Probably he is failing. That would make anyone unhappy. Ask the teacher for suggestions. Are there things you can do to help him? Offer your services. Then do whatever she suggests.

There is another possibility. He may be doing well in class but having trouble elsewhere. Sometimes big kids terrorize little ones on the playground. Or they tease them on the way to and from school. If you find that is happening, go to the principal. He'll see that your boy is protected.

If your son's troubles continue, get expert help. Go to a qualified child psychologist. You'll find psychologists on the faculty of your nearest college. Ask for an individual intelligence test and an accomplishment test. Talk with the psychologist about the results. Make sure he sends a complete report to your principal. Psychology study has helped many 6-year-olds who are afraid of school.

T.M.G.

(A) I think mothers should be discouraged from working outside their homes while their children are small. There is less risk of trouble when they are older. However, even with teen-agers the effects often are harmful. Each family is different. No one rule applies to all.

Uniform Plan For Garbage Pickup Fails

The Mill Valley Garbage Co. covers that portion of the valley. The De Martini Co. of Sausalito collects garbage in other areas.

District secretary Gus Wolf said the uniform collection ordinance was proposed in an effort to "put a control on garbage collections."

Tom McDougall, former district director, objected to the proposal, declaring it would not provide control and that garbage collecting should be open to competitive bidding. He contended that present collection was adequate.

The matter was put over to the board's October meeting.

The board raised its sewer connection fees, setting $175 for a one-bath single family dwelling and $225 for a two-bath home. Corresponding fees were formerly $125 and $150.

No. 950—Sept. 16, 23, 30, Oct. 7, 1959

RESOLUTION NO. 824
RESOLUTION DECLARING THAT PROCEEDINGS HAVE BEEN INITIATED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN ANSELMO TO ANNEX TO SAID CITY CERTAIN UNINHABITED TERRITORY DESCRIBED HEREIN AND DESIGNATED "SORICH DAIRY ANNEXATION," AND GIVING NOTICE OF THE PROPOSED ANNEXATION

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN ANSELMO:

1. That, pursuant to the provisions of the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, proceedings have been initiated by the Council of the City of San Anselmo, on its own motion, to annex to the City of San Anselmo all that uninhabited territory situate in the County of Marin, State of California, hereby designated as "Sorich Dairy Annexation" and described as follows:

2. That the Council of the City of San Anselmo desires to annex said uninhabited territory to the City of San Anselmo for the following reasons: The territory is contiguous to the City of San Anselmo, and its proposed annexation will contribute to and facilitate the orderly growth and development of both the City and the territory proposed to be annexed; will facilitate and contribute to the proper and orderly layout, design and construction of streets, gutters, sidewalks, sanitary and storm water sewers and drainage facilities, both within the City and within the territory proposed to be annexed; and will provide and facilitate proper overall planning and zoning of lands, and subdivision of lands in said City and said uninhabited territory, in a manner most conducive to the welfare of said City and said uninhabited territory.

3. That the County Boundary Commission of Marin County, California, did in session duly assembled on Friday, September 11th, 1959, approve the proposed annexation boundaries of said "Sorich Dairy Annexation" as above described, and as submitted to said Commission by the Council of the City of San Anselmo.

4. That Wednesday, October 21st 1959, at the hour of 8:00 p.m., in the Council Chambers in the City Hall in the City of San Anselmo, County of Marin, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where any person owning real property within the uninhabited territory above described and proposed to be annexed to the City of San Anselmo, and having any objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before the Council of the City of San Anselmo and show cause why such uninhabited territory should not be so annexed to said City of San Anselmo. Such protest must be in writing, may be filed at any time before the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed annexation, and shall state the name or names of the owner or owners of property affected, and the description and area of such proprty, in general terms.

5. The City Clerk of the City of San Anselmo is hereby authorized and directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be published at least twice but not oftener than once a week, in the Ross Valley Times or Pelican, a newspaper of general circulation published in said City of San Anselmo, the city to which it is proposed to annex the aforesaid territory, and also in the Independent Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published outside the City of San Anselmo, but in the County of Marin, California, the county in which is located the territory proposed to be annexed to the City of San Anselmo, said publication to be complete at least twenty (20) days prior to the date set for hearing.

6. In the event any land within the territory proposed to be annexed is owned by a county, the City Clerk is directed to cause written notice of such proposed annexation to be mailed to the Board of Supervisors of the county, such notice to be given not less than twenty (20) days before the first public hearing on the proposed annexation.

7. In the even there is, upon the land proposed to be annexed, a structural improvement owned, being acquired or leased by a county fire protection district, the said Clerk is directed to cause written notice of such proposed annexation to be mailed to the governing body of such district, such notice to be sent not less than ten (10) days before the first public hearing upon such proposed annexation.

8. The City Clerk is directed to cause written notice to be given to such other persons as may be legally entitled thereto, in the manner required by law.

ADOPTED THIS 16th DAY OF SEPTEMBER, 1959, by the following vote:

AYES: Booth, Martinelli, Little, Franchini, Smith.
NOES: None.
ANITA GANNON
City Clerk

Signed and approved this 18th day of September, 1959.
ARTHUR W. SMITH
Mayor of the City of San Anselmo.

PREVENTION WEEK

San Rafael Students Join Jr. Fire Marshal Brigade

San Rafael school children join the nationwide junior fire marshals brigade this week in preparation for a special fire safety program during Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4-10.

Public school pupils and those in St. Raphael's School—4,000 in all—will receive copies of the Junior Fire Marshal magazine, distributed here by the O'Connor Insurance Agency. The agency, headed by Gene O'Connor, sponsors the year-around program locally in cooperation with the city's elementary schools and the fire department under Fire Chief Clarence M. Johansen.

They must return the report, signed by parents, to their teacher. Those who complete their home reports will receive official junior fire marshal signet rings.

The O'Connor agency will distribute special aids to classroom fire prevention studies and classroom honor roll forms where the names of pupils who have qualified as Junior fire marshals can be posted.

Schools that earn satisfactory home inspection report records receive silver and red achievement award banners from the Hartford Fire Insurance Co., creators of the nationwide program.

O'Connor said the junior fire marshal brigade of grade school youngsters is the largest and one of the most effective fire prevention groups in the country today. "The program already has trained more than 30 million boys and girls in the fundamentals of fire safety—instilling in them safe habits they will carry with them through life," he said.

Radio Panel Will Discuss Crusade Drive Tomorrow

The United Crusade in the Bay Area will be the topic of discussion from 9 to 10 a. m. tomorrow on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program.

The program, aired live each Thursday, is repeated via tape recording at 12:30 p. m. Sundays.

This week's guests of moderator Kitty Oppenheimer will be Mrs. Thomas Mellon, president of the Marin United Fund; Jordan B. Dell'Era, chairman of allocations and admissions committee; Edward W. Bullard Jr., campaign chairman, and Eugene E. Crawford, a member of the board of directors and past president of the Marin United Fund.

The life expectancy of a person born in the United States in the year 2000 will probably be just over 74 years, compared with almost 70 years today.

Instant Tea Stirs Tempest In Britain

LONDON (UPI)—The newest battle of Britain is raging as a tempest in a teapot.

Of course, some Englishmen preferred to argue about Khrushchev or the coming parliamentary elections. But even in the corner pubs where beer is king, Britons tried to decide if the instant stuff was quite their dish of tea.

A Swiss firm put little brown jugs of the stuff on sale throughout England last week. It has sold well, the firm reports.

JUST CURIOUS

Observers said the sales just meant Britons were curious to see and possibly taste the instant tea.

Harmon B. Lewis, a doorman said, "I hate instant tea." But he admitted he hadn't tasted it.

"The thought of it is enough," he said.

Mrs. George C. Noel of the fashionable West End section of London admitted she bought some instant tea—and tasted it.

"It is decidedly better than plain hot water," she said.

Makers of the instant tea claim two expert British tea-tasters couldn't tell the difference between the instant and the regular stuff.

Besides, they said, they introduced instant tea in the United States last year and said it did well there.

SUBMITTED MEEKLY

But Englishmen haven't readily accepted an American's word on tea since that unpleasantness in Boston harbor in 1773. But Britain submitted meekly to instant coffee.

Of course, coffee hasn't been much in Britain for several hundred years. In the 17th Century the English working man substituted tea for gin and coffee.

England's tea time habits have undergone some changes recently. Hamburgers (called Wimpies) and malted milk drinks (called whipsies) have appeared in some London restaurants at tea time.

"I suppose they'll next have us swallow instant beer and instant Scotch," Lewis said.

Ex-Marinite's Film Wins High Honor

A sound public relations movie filmed and edited by a former Marinite has been awarded top honors by the magazine Industrial Photography and will be shown at the film and audio visual exhibition of the New York Trade Show tomorrow in New York City.

The team beat out such entries as those from the Ford Motor Co., General Motors, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and California Institute of Technology.

A graduate of College of Marin, the 31-year-old Jarboe worked as projectionist at the Rafael and the El Camino theaters in Marin before moving to Pasadena to take a job with Hycon Manufacturing Co. in 1955.

Jarboe is a stepson of Chief Clarence M. Johansen of the San Rafael Fire Department. His sister, Mrs. Joan Willis, and his grandmother, Mrs. Angel Mazet, both live in San Rafael.

Student Booth To Display Sculpture

Stoneware sculpture and the use of the potter's wheel will be demonstrated by students from Sir Francis Drake High School at the Grape Festival at Sunny Hills on Saturday.

MURDER IN THE CATHEDRAL

Italian basso Plinio Clabassi, playing the role of Thomas a Becket, is "killed" by knights of King Henry II in rehearsal of opera "Murder in the Cathedral," performed in a real cathedral last weekend in Boston. The opera by Ildebrando Pizzetti, adapted from T. S. Eliot's famous verse play, was presented in Boston's Cathedral of the Holy Cross. The action is based on the murder of Becket, archbishop of Canterbury, on New Year's Eve, 1170. (AP Wirephoto)

Famous TV 'Attorney' Plans To Study Law

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—TV's Perry Mason is going to go to law school. But only after the public tires of seeing him in its living room.

The television defense attorney who never loses a case, said, "I intend to remain an actor."

"Mason," in real life Raymond Burr, told a press conference this week he would take up the formal study of law, probably in some California university, after his TV series ends. He wouldn't predict when that would be—probably in a couple of years.

His informal studies include consultations with attorneys across the country. Fresh from addressing the Oregon Bar Assn., the first item on his schedule was a meeting with Jake Ehrlich of Corte Madera, leading San Francisco criminal attorney.

Ehrlich and attorney Melvin Belli chided Burr about never losing in television court. Burr conceded:

"I feel guilty, kind of, when somebody asks why do you have to win every week. Most of the district attorneys have fun with it and go along with it."

Burr says his TV show is a good thing for the legal profession, the defense attorneys and the administration of law in America.

MOVIES AND MORALS

Revolution In Film-Making Alarms Many Churchmen

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Where were the censors when that picture got passed?"

You hear that question more and more these days from amazed movie-goers, accustomed to decades of almost simonpure entertainment on the screen.

The watchdogs of movie morality are still on the job. But films are undergoing a moral revolution due to these factors:

1. Loss of the movie habit. Millions of Americans used to go to the movies regularly with scant regard to what was showing. TV ended that. Movie-goers are shoppers now. They are attracted by what is talked about. So producers are trying to provide what is new and often sensational.

2. Source of film material. Most film stories now come from books and plays. You need only to consult recent best sellers — "Lolita," "By Love Possessed," "Lady Chatterley's Lover," "Peyton Place"—to note the erotic nature of popular literature. And Broadway's top playwright, Tennessee Williams, has led the stage into new byways of sexual motivations.

3. Product shortage. Because the major studios are not making enough movies, theaters must rely also on foreign and cheap American products. An unclad Brigitte Bardot showed foreign producers the surest way to the U.S. dollar. Overseas films need not meet production code requirements. The same is true of quick-buck Hollywood producers who make and release teen-age and horror films, most of them sleazy.

Churchmen have been alarmed at this revolution in film morality. Roman Catholics long have been a potent force in affecting moral content in movies.

Francis Cardinal Spellman urged in a speech last month that "pictures and books which corrupt and destroy the moral fibre and ideals of youth . . . be eliminated if we are to discharge our sacred duties to our children."

Recently George Heimrich, West Coast director of a film and broadcasting commission of the National Council of Churches, issued a blast against movies that exploited "sex for sex's sake and violence for violence's sake." He hinted at strong action by Protestants.

Rev. H. B. Rasbach, Lutheran minister, was a member of the Hollywood Ministerial Assn. that voted unanimously to support Heimrich. Rev. Rasbach's view:

"I don't think we should get back to the puritanical approach to movies of the '30s. That took all the realism out of films. But I do think our producers should be more careful about morality in view of our perilous position today.

"We must think how movies picture us abroad. Recently a minister in Italy wrote me that someone asked him, 'are most Americans promiscuous?' That was the impression he got from our films . . ."

School TV To Continue In Mill Valley

Mill Valley School District trustees have voted to continue use of KQED for educational programs, but teachers of the 10 participating classes were not eager for the continuance.

In a panel discussion Monday led by Logan T. Miles, assistant superintendent for educational services, the teachers present conceded the potential advantages in educational TV and expressed hope for improved programs.

Lawrence Smith, director of KQED educational programming, said changes have already been made on the basis of experience. More schedules will be aimed at fourth, fifth and sixth grades and fewer at seventh and eighth, he said.

Trustees approved a cost basis of 60 cents per child for the approximate 300 children in the intermediate grades.

Seniors To Get Dance Instruction

Instructors from the Arthur Murray Dance Studio will show Marin Seniors some of the latest dance steps Friday and again Oct. 9.

The dance sessions will start at 10:30 a.m. at the Senior Center, at 1825 Fourth street, San Rafael. John Clahan, director of the center, announced. Those who plan to attend have been requested to notify the center in advance.

Keep Out Of Alaska If You Can't Afford It

ANCHORAGE (UPI) — Come to Alaska if you want to, but, for heaven's sake, stay at home if you can't afford it!

This statement is not very hospitable but it is the thought of many Alaskans as they read accounts concerning new caravans of prospective residents being formed to travel to the 49th state to seek their fortunes.

It is true the new state is a land of opportunity. It is also true there is a need for more population. But the opportunity is there only for those with enough money to exploit it or the ability to sustain themselves until they get a foothold in their new home.

Alaska already has its share of people who are either on welfare or drawing unemployment compensation for part of the year because of seasonal jobs.

Proof of this is the fact the new state legislature is faced with the problem of paying back some $8,000,000 to the Federal government for loans issued so that state jobless benefits could continue for workers in occupations such as construction or mining.

Since passage of the statehood bill in June of 1958, thousands of words have been written for worldwide consumption about Alaska's fabulous storehouse of resources, its free land and its colorful population.

The resources are here but they will remain locked in the earth's surface until large amounts of money from investors not interested in turning a quick buck arrive on the scene with sufficient capital to make the mountains and glaciers yield a harvest.

There is an abundance of free land available for homesteading in isolated areas away from population centers but homesteading is only for those who are brave enough to try it. Any prospective homesteader should be prepared to give years of his life and spend at least $150 an acre to clear his land for cultivation.

As for the colorful characters who came to Alaska in search of a new life and became self-made millionaires, there are a few. But like many of their fellow Alaskans who arrived here poor and found a comfortable living, they came alone and either married later or sent for their wives when they had made a stake.

They did not follow the devil-may-care practice of bundling their families into a car or truck and loading their worldly possessions on the top for an adventure over the horizon. The price of such indulgence can often be too high.

First, come up for a visit. You will be welcomed with open arms by warm-hearted citizens who like nothing better than to show off the wonders of Alaska's magnificent scenery and promise.

Second, have either a definite commitment for a job before you make the long journey or at least enough money to keep your family for a month and the return trip home if things don't pan out.

Heat Bombs To Be Used On Icebergs

BOSTON (UPI) — The U.S. Coast Guard is planning to experiment with thermite bombs as a weapon against the age-old menace of icebergs in the North Atlantic shipping lanes.

Coast Guard planes will drop the bombs, which are made of materials that produce an intense heat of 3,000 degrees fahrenheit, in an attempt to "burn out" huge masses of ice before they can drift into the path of oncoming ships.

Ever since the "unsinkable" White Star Liner Titanic sank with a loss of 1,517 lives after grazing an iceberg on its maiden voyage 47 years ago, the Coast Guard has sought safeguards against the danger.

There smaller icebergs, or "growlers," are even more dangerous than the big ones because they are harder to spot. This is especially true in the Grand Banks area where the cold Labrador current mingles with the warm Gulf Stream, causing fog and poor visibility.

The International Ice Patrol has guarded the shipping lanes ever since the Titanic disaster and kept ship-iceberg collisions to a minimum.

Pilots Learn How To Handle Jetliners In Mock Cockpit

By ROBERT J. SERLING

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — All was quiet and routine in the cockpit of the big Boeing 707 jet-liner.

The cruising altitude was 30,000 feet. The ground speed was 487 miles per hour with a 20 mile headwind.

A loud, raucous buzzer squawked suddenly. A red light began flashing on the instrument panel—so bright that the roof of the flight deck glowed

The latter took the controls. In one swift motion, the captain donned an oxygen mask and pulled a lever that automatically opened the mask compartment above every seat in the passenger cabin.

The co-pilot donned his own mask. At the very second he let go of the wheel, the captain took the controls, pushed them forward and the giant plane began nosing down.

In back of the two pilots, a third man quietly marked down a grade next to an item reading:

This incident did not take place at 30,000 feet. It happened on the 8th floor of a converted Kansas City furniture store — a half-million dollar structure that Trans World Airlines has remodeled into the most modern pilot training center in the world. The flight deck was merely an electronic simulator which is so close to the real thing that on a landing, you can hear tires squeal on make-believe pavement.

The man in charge of this breeding ground for jetliner pilots is Capt. Ray Rowe, director of TWA Flight Operations Training. Under his guidance, TWA is turning out the captains, first officers and flight engineers who are manning the airline's new 707 jetliners. Rowe, soft-spoken but blunt, is outspoken in praise of the jets.

"They are different, they are demanding, and they do not tolerate carelessness or mistakes," Rowe said: "But in the hands of a thoroughly-trained pilot, they are the safest aircraft ever built —and it's our job to make sure our crews are so trained."

—A full year before TWA took delivery of its first 707, all pilots, engineers, navigators and dispatchers received home study material on jet operations—high altitude meteorology, electronics, jet engine principles and the flying characteristics of high-speed, swept-back wing aircraft.

—Actual qualification on the jet begins with 60 hours of ground school courses. In these crews familiarize themselves with every detail of the plane itself, from its engines to its airframe; from flight-deck instruments to the air-conditioning system. They must pass a stiff examination before they are allowed to progress to the next phase.

—Another 24 to 30 hours are spent in the 707 simulator. All airlines prefer to use simulators for pilot training for two reasons: (1) they are cheaper ($125 an hour compared to $1,200 an hour on a real plane) and (2) they can train and test crews in emergency procedures without risking a five-million-dollar aircraft. In the simulator, a pilot will spend 10 hours observing, 10 hours at the controls themselves and another four to 10 hours "refining" his performance and passing tests.

The entire jet course takes three weeks, in 14 completely-equipped classrooms that contain everything from animated diagrams of various jet systems to color movies of the airports the jets will serve (taken from a cockpit to accustom crews to all runways, approaches, obstructions and so on).

When pilots complete the course, they fly the real thing for another 10 hours. Then comes the final exam: a gruelling test by a Federal Aviation Agency inspector.

Rowe says TWA has yet to experience a complete failure; two captains declined to take the course and two more dropped out voluntarily after starting. This is about par for most airlines flying jetliners

"I don't doubt many pilots are nervous when they start out," Rowe explained. "The jet is more than just another big plane—it's a completely different aircraft from anything they've ever flown, from the power plants to its aerodynamics. But after 90 hours of concentrated instruction our crews know the 707 as well as they knew their old Constellations and I'd make the flat statement they like the 707 a whale of a lot better.

Population Ticked Off On U.S. Clock

WASHINGTON (UPI) — By every tick of the clock, the population of the United States is increasing.

Chances are that the increase stems from the birth of a baby. One is born every 7½ seconds, on the average.

But also swelling our national population, though less rapidly, is the arrival of people from foreign countries who have decided to make a new home in America. One immigrant arrives every minute and a half or so.

The famous "population clock" of the U.S. Census Bureau, a device that has been seen by millions of Americans, records all the changes in population — all on the basis of estimated averages, of course.

Many have seen it in Washington in the spacious lobby of the Commerce Department. Likely as not they didn't know about it but caught sight of it as they headed for the Department's aquarium — one of the capital's popular sights for tourists.

Countless other Americans have see the population clock when it was on tour. It was prominently displayed at the Chicago World's Fair in 1933, the Texas Centennial Exposition in 1936 and the New York World's Fair in 1939.

The central part of the "clock" is the counting device that looks like the mileage meter on the dashboard of a car. Set in three groups of three numerals each, the counting wheels record the growth of the population from minute to minute.

In fact, it can be said the clock records population expansion every 11 seconds. That's how often the population increases by one person, Census Bureau statisticians estimate.

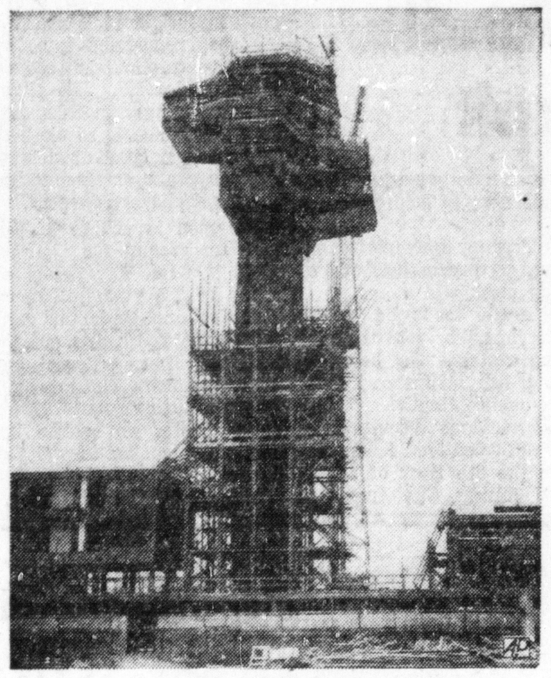
Accordingly, every 11 seconds the right hand wheel rolls one notch, boosting the total by one.

Besides births and immigration, the clock also takes account of population losses by deaths and people leaving the country.

It registers all four kinds of population items with flashing lights, one color for each kind of statistic. Blue bulbs flash every 7½ seconds, denoting births. Purple ones flash every 20 seconds, symbolizing that someone has died.

Every 20 minutes red bulbs light up, indicating that someone has emigrated to another country. Green bulbs wink on every 90 seconds, reporting that someone has arrived on these shores.

An explanatory note on the apparatus points out that "the flash of a light does not necessarily coincide with the exact moment of a birth, a death, the entry of an immigrant or the departure of an emigrant, but symbolizes the effect of such an event on the net increase in the nation's population."



AERIAL RUSH

Fiumicino airport control tower nears readiness outside Rome. New field, set for 1961 use, is being rushed for Olympic games traffic.

Too Realistic

GREENSBURG, Ind. (AP)—An attorney was just winding up a detailed description of accident injuries suffered by his client when juror Arthur McClintic collapsed in Decatur Circuit Court.

McClintic was revived and allowed to go home after he explained that he simply could not stand to hear of someone being hurt.

Change In Command

FT. HUACHUCA, Ariz. (AP)—An Arizona National Guardsman was planning to be married the day after active duty training ended at Ft. Huachuca.

"How does it feel to be on the brink of marriage?" an officer asked.

Russ Newsmen Get Rigorous Preparation

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Two women journalists who recently spent 15 days in Moscow studying their Russian counterparts say that members of the Soviet press are better prepared for their jobs than are American newsmen.

Mrs. Ann Andersen and Mrs. Margaret Maunder said writers, reporters and radio and television personnel in Russia undergo rigorous preparation in the universities and enjoy much greater prestige than American newsmen.

The two women were sent to Moscow by Theta Sigma Phi, professional journalism fraternity for women. They travelled alone without advance preparations, but within a few days made friends with Russian journalists, whom they called "very cordial."

"One of the things that we were very much impressed with was the extensive and thorough training that they give their journalists," said Mrs. Andersen, a free-lance writer.

"Russian journalists are better prepared than Americans," Mrs. Andersen said, adding that Soviet journalists are among the best paid workers in Russia and that " the profession of journalism would be exceeded perhaps only by the scientific."

Both women were impressed with the quality of Russian magazines, although the content might not be pleasing to Americans. They called "Soviet Woman," printed in 10 languages and circulated in dozens of countries, "a tremendous women's magazine."

But neither of them would trade the human interest of America's mass communications media for the predominance of propaganda in Russian publications and on radio-television.

Mrs. Maunder, former feature writer for the St. Louis-Globe-Democrat and Post-Dispatch, said "one of the mysteries" of their trip was the friendliness of Russians toward American visitors despite the anti-American press.

As soon as Russians discovered that Americans were friendly and not arrogant, the Russians went out of their way to be helpful, she said.

Mrs. Andersen said they found that in the Soviet Union "an Amerikanski is a celebrity."

Russians seem to be avid readers of newspapers even though there is no reporting of crime, casualties or human interest events, the women said.

"The press is the main way of the party of beating the people over the head about the seven-year plan," Mrs. Andersen declared.

"They make no attempt at all to be objective," she added. "Their one purpose—and they make no bones about this—is to further the interests of the Communist economy and the state. You sort of don't believe this until you actually see it face to face."

Navy Operates Most Powerful Radio Station

It's the most powerful radio transmitter in the world, and provides around-the-world, 24-hour service. It's so big it utilizes two 3,000-foot mountains just to string up its antenna.

But no disc jockey need apply. This station doesn't have any voice broadcasting. Everything is sent by key transmission in the International Morse Code.

Blue and Wheeler mountains provide the base for a dozen 200 foot towers which support 10 antenna spans weighing approximately eight tons each. The longest span is 8,900 feet, the shortest, 5,800 feet.

But the antenna is a short circuit compared with what's below the earth. Buried beneath the transmitter and throughout Jim Creek Valley are 300 miles of copper cable that make up the extensive grounding system for the radio station.

The transmitter itself, a two-part job that can be alternated, is housed in a two-story concrete building large enough to cover half a city block. The lower floor of the building contains storage space and a huge cooling system. The upper floor is used for the console controls, workshops and offices.

The transmitter, installed by Radio Corporation of America, cost two million dollars. The entire layout was established for $15 million.

In addition to its radio facilities, the station includes barracks and housing facilities for personnel, recreation facilities, a fire department and ambulance service.

Fifty military personnel and as many civilians are attached to Jim Creek Station, but only 20 enlisted men and two civilian engineers are required to operate the radio facilities.

The station originally was attached to the U.S. Naval Communications Center in Seattle, having been commissioned on Nov. 18, 1953. However, in March of this year, Jim Creek became a separate independent command under Cmdr. John Greksouk, USN.

Red Chinese Slogans Hinge Around Numbers

By WENDELL S. MERICK

HONG KONG (UPI) — Communist Chinese propagandists play a fascinating "numbers" game with China's 650,000,000 people.

For example, to be a good Commune member, one takes the "five good pledge." Then there are the "five too manys," "the lead in five things," "two participations and one reform," "three assurances and three fixes." The list is practically unending.

Keeping track of number slogans is healthy mental exercise, and one can almost imagine a Chinese family playing parlor games, asking what each slogan means.

However silly this game may seem, it is anything but that. It has a definite place in the Communist propaganda machine.

What happens is that Peiping decides on a new campaign—for instance to eliminate insects which for centuries have plagued farmers and spread disease. To punch home the campaign the propagandist dreams up "the five evils," which are flies, mosquitoes, rats, sparrows and snails.

Here are some of the slogans.

—"Two participations and one reform"—participation in manual labor by cadres, participation in administration by workers, and reform of existing regulations and systems.

—"Three assurances and three fixes" — assurance of hard work, of good production and of low cost; fixed volume of work, fixed quota and fixed level of cost.

The list is virtually endless, and in some cases repetitious. But each has a part in the Communists' indoctrination of their subjects.

Titan's Lair Being Dug At Coast Base

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE Base (AP) — You'd think they were digging a hole to hell — but it's really aimed at the heavens.

There will be times when the hole is a veritable inferno.

Smoke and flames and earsplitting thunder will roll forth, then struggling up through them will rise the deadly snout of a 20th century dragon, on its way to space.

Its mission may be the destruction of an entire city. Or it may seek only to scour the skies in quest of new knowledge for man, its master.

The dragon really exists. It is called Titan, because of its size. And hardrock miners, toiling around the clock at this West Coast missile base, are digging a lair for the ocean-spanning missile.

The hole, called a silo because it is used for storage of the 90-foot missile, is the key part of an eight-million-dollar project. Three smaller holes have been dug nearby, for storage of the fuel, liquid oxygen and control instruments.

When finished, this will be the country's first underground Titan launching site. The missile is expected to be operational here in mid-1960.

Last April miners started digging four more silos. A year from now these will be completed and Vandenberg will have two "hard" sites for launching Titans.

Titan sites are hardened, or buried underground, to protect them from attack. Theoretically at least, these missiles can be launched at an enemy even though nuclear bombs are dropping all around.

Bearskin For British

BALTIMORE (AP)—The skin of a bear killed near downtown Baltimore may some day be riding atop the head of a sentry at Buckingham Palace.

The bear was cornered and killed by Baltimore police last June.

Not long afterward there was a bit of a fuss about the condition of some of the bearskin caps worn by the Brigade of Guards which patrols the palace.

So Tommy Dukehart, a radio executive, is having the skin tanned and will send it to England, with the suggestion it be cut up for new caps.

Unfriendly Tap

Harmon put his head into the car window and asked the man, "Don't I know you?"

Look Again!

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A radio newsman, broadcasting traffic conditions from an airplane over the city, announced a terrific jam in one small area. Then he quickly corrected himself. He had sighted two used car lots.

Smokey Bear Has New Pal: Howdy Racoon

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Smokey the Bear now has a new chum in conservation — Howdy the Raccoon.

Smokey warns against burning down forest playgrounds. Howdy urges good outdoor manners and asks that you leave the woods just as beautiful as you found them so the next arrivals can enjoy them, too.

When Smokey the Bear was created 11 years ago the biggest worry most park and forest officials had was forest fire. Prevent fires, they thought, and one of the most destructive forces ruining forests would be eliminated.

Howdy was created to deal with a new threat to forests: the increased use of forests by families.

Park and forest officials find it almost impossible to pick up after all families spending weekends and vacations out-of-doors.

Howdy was created in Pennsylvania, a state that, like most other states, has seen use of parks and forests rise.

Some of the conservation agencies in the state decided to do something about rising maintenance costs this year.

The Pennsylvania Forestry Association, together with the state's conservation officials and other private groups, created a raccoon, wearing a battered fisherman's cap and a plaid shirt, to deliver their "Good Outdoor Manners" message. They asked Pennsylvania's school children to name the raccoon.

Fifty-two-thousand children submitted names. The winner was John Hoyes, a first grader from Charleroi, who picked the name, Howdy the Raccoon. The boy explained "Howdy" by saying:

"He welcomes you to the forest, his home, if you obey the rules of a good guest."

Howdy's sponsors feel that the whole point of their Good Outdoor Manners campaign is summed up in this first-grader's language, and a dozen states have told Pennsylvania authorities they are interested in using Howdy the Raccoon in their own Good Outdoor Manners campaigns.

Morning Paper And . . .

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Philip Eddy, 16, a delivery boy for the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot, was unable to arouse the James S. Bartlette family in the early morning when he delivered the Sunday paper. He finished his route, went to church and returned to give Bartlette his wallet he had found containing $250.

Still Difficult

USF Language Students Learn Via Electronics

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A student sits in a glass-paneled isolation booth, ears glued to his headphones, lips repeating the strange phrases he hears, eyes watching the intercommunication panel for instructions from the central control room.

A scene from Buck Rogers? No, just a preview of what freshman language students may expect in the University of San Francisco's recently completed Electronic Language Laboratory.

The new $40,000 installation, equipped with the latest recording devices, is "an attempt of the university to correct a recognized weakness in the American educational system — its failure to produce students who have proficiency in at least one foreign language," said the Rev. F. X. Connolly, S.J., president of the school.

Under this new system of language instruction, each student will spend four hours a week in the laboratory and only two in regular class, compared with the customary four weekly hours of classroom time.

The laboratory can handle 60 students per hour, each in a private booth. Dual turntables allow the student to listen to a master record as many times as he thinks necessary to perfect the understanding, speaking, reading and writing exercise of each lesson.

To give maximum individual instruction, sectional control allows the teacher to monitor each student while central control allows him to communicate with any individual booth.

Father Connolly pointed out that students can proceed at their own pace, allowing each to reach his potential in the shortest possible time.

"The above-average student will not be held back. He will be urged to go ahead and, as an incentive to progress, will be allowed to petition at any time for his final examination," the president explained.

In conjunction with the stepped-up language program, the university has announced that beginning with the freshman class of 1959, each student must take a language and achieve high proficiency in it before obtaining his undergraduate degree.

The student must be able to read, write and understand that language as well as speak it with a native in the tongue.

"Future University of San Francisco students will be the beneficiaries of the new language requirement," Father Connolly said. "In the modern world of international living, the knowledge of a foreign language is essential for a college graduate today."

This Package Vacation Splits Land, Sea Time

CANNES, France (UPI)—Josephine Bay Paul of New York, one of America's most enterprising business women, has started something — the vacation trip de luxe.

The fact that Mrs. Paul is the only woman who controls a major transatlantic steamship company enabled her to put her pet idea into effect. She is chairman of the board of the American Export Lines, which operates a fleet of 30 ships, including the luxury liners Constitution and Independence.

Under a new one-ticket "package plan" she inaugurated, the traveler can plan a one-month trip from the United States to Europe that will divide the time half at sea and half on land.

The tourist can be in Paris eight days after leaving New York and have ample time to visit other places on the continent.

"It's the ideal way to see Europe and come home rested and refreshed," said Mrs. Paul. She should know—she's made at least 40 transatlantic trips.

A novelty of this particular plan is that you enter Europe at the Mediterranean port of Cannes instead of the northern European channel ports. From there Paris is easily accessible by plane, train, motor car or bus, as are other glamorous spots on the continent. After a fortnight on land, you return to Cannes and reembark for a seven and one-half days voyage back to New York.

At Cannes you are in the heart of the French Riviera. Nearby are Nice and Monte Carlo. By air, Paris an hour and a half away; by train it's a little over 10 hours.

Mrs. Paul now has plans to build a new luxury liner costing 95 million dollars that would carry 1,600 passengers in transatlantic service.

The new ship may be built in about three years, according to Mrs. Paul. It's "up to Uncle Sam," she said, explaining that American ships are now being operated under government subsidy and Congress must appropriate money to finance the building of new ones.

The government pays 45 per cent of the cost of building the ship and later 45 per cent of its operating expenses. The line handles the other 55 per cent in both categories as its end of the agreement.

Mrs. Paul said the proposed new ship would have all the latest improvements and could easily be converted into an atomic ship in the event of a national emergency. It could also be used for troop carrying purposes.

"We aim to make it one of the finest ships in the world," said Mrs. Paul. "It would be about 50,000 tons with a cruise speed of 23½ knots. It would probably be over 900 feet in length.

"Carrying 1,600 passengers in two classes, first class and cabin class, the new ship would accommodate 500 more passengers than the 1,100 capacity of the Constitution and the Independence."

Keeps Off His Feet

WATERBURY, Vt. (UPI) — Mailman L. F. Marchi won an award from the National Safety Council for 24 years of safe driving.

Wired For Stage

BALTIMORE (AP) — A play scheduled for the summer theater circuit in Maryland involves thought control through the feet.

Playwright Ray Hamby's three-act work deals with electronic shoes which enable political dictators to govern the thinking of anyone who wears them.

Strong Mental Health Emphasis In Public Schools Recommended

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—One question bothering psychologists is when is the best time to combat mental illness.

James T. Mehorter, a professor of educational psychology at the University of Vermont's College of Education and Nursing, says "it should start in a state's public schools."

Mehorter said "strong mental health emphasis in our schools would do a great deal to prevent serious mental disturbances" later on.

He said "research studies in mental hygiene clearly show that school-age youths tend to make a successful personal adjustment when provided with curriculum experiences in the principles of human behavior."

Mehorter believes "the essential ingredient for such a program is an adequately prepared teacher with good personality traits who is sensitive to the findings of the psychological sciences as they apply to the student. This special kind of person is already in our schools today and needs only to be properly utilized."

Mehorter says this mental health program, which could be started at practically no cost, does require adequate preparation. He said teachers should take courses in general and educational psychology, tests and measurements, counseling techniques, mental hygiene and child and adolescent development.

"Abnormal behavior," he said, "can be averted if its symptoms are perceived in time and the person showing them is referred to a trained psychotherapist. A teacher seeing a pupil display symptoms of abnormal behavior should guide him to a qualified clinician or mental health clinic. She may help him to come to grips with his problem before he becomes seriously disturbed."

MAKING JOB EASIER

Even Salesman Going Mechanical

NEW YORK (AP) — Mechanization is creeping up on the salesman as well as the factory worker. In both cases it's making the task easier. In both there's talk of threats to jobs.

But with today's keener competition in the industrial and business worlds the salesman's job looks more important than in any other postwar years.

Today's traveling man can carry along a kit the size of a dispatch case and set up equipment in a strange office and wow his prospect with sight and sound—even mood music.

The salesman does more than just operate a machine. For one thing, he must be there in person to get the signature on the order blank. But the equipment does help get the sales pitch across. And some think it does more than mere sales talk can.

The devices take many forms. There are closed circuit TV for big projects, industrial movies, tape recorders, sound effect records, magnetic recording tape, slide projectors, color prints and transparencies, animated films.

One New York-based corporation is said to have 60 different audio-visual devices it can turn to for special tasks.

Commercial and industrial purchases of audio-visual equipment are estimated at 200 million dollars last year. They are expected to go higher this year, according to exhibitors at the industrial film and audio-visual exhibition now in full swing here.

Schools and colleges bought 27 million dollars worth last year. Purchases by government agencies, religious, social welfare, civic, medical and health groups brought the total to an estimated 250 million.

Some big corporations are reported to be spending $100,000 or more a year on various audio-visual equipment. When they go in for industrial movies the cost can run to many times that.

Communication itself is twofold. Management finds it increasingly necessary to keep in touch with, and instruct, its sales forces, its workers, its junior executives, its stockholders. Also it finds a new need to present its case to the communities in which it has plants or sales outlets.

Civic Center Project Gets Another Panning

The hotly criticized plans for a county civic center received another blast at yesterday's meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors when 25 letters of protest were read to the board.

Mrs. May C. Cheda, president of the Cheda Estate Co. of San Rafael, attending the morning session, demanded to know why the issue of the civic center was not settled by a county election.

Supervisor Vera Schultz declared: "There has been a great deal of emotional objection raised to the architect. But a representative government doesn't provide for a pure democracy—where everyone is consulted on all issues."

BETTER BABY BUGGIES NEW SOVIET GOAL

MOSCOW (UPI)—The government newspaper Izvestia has criticized the baby carriage industry for turning out inferior buggies and failing to keep up with the stork.

The paper said baby carriages often are of poor quality and appearance and subject to continual breakdowns.

In six republics there are no baby carriages factories at all, despite the fact that suppliers in other republics cannot meet the demand, the paper said.

Radio Club Plans Classes In Novato

The Tamalpais Radio Club will conduct twice-weekly amateur radio telegraph and radio theory classes at Novato High School beginning tomorrow, Henry Alvernaz, club secretary, announced.

Classes will be held on Mondays and Thursdays in Room 41 of the high school's industrial arts building. The hours are 7:30 till 9 p.m., and the classes are open to all persons 12 and older.

Club members will teach the classes. Stressed will be procedure for setting up a radio station and its operation, and the amateur's place in emergency communications.

NOURISHMENT OF OATMEAL

The people at Post have discovered a way to bring you a ready-to-eat cereal that gives you the nourishment of oatmeal! (And proven it, too, by scientific studies.) It's new Post Heart of Oats—a delicious blend of oat and other flours. All you do is pour and serve with milk.

Now Heart of Oats can give your family the high-quality protein, vitamins and minerals you want them to have in a light, crisp, ready-to-eat cereal.

Could be that Heart of Oats is the most important cereal discovery of our time. And—it happens to taste "just a little bit better!"

GRAPE FESTIVAL BUYS

This week we urge you to visit the GRAPE FESTIVAL at SUNNY HILLS, right next door to Drake Market. Saturday, October 3rd is the date and for 60 years it has been a highpoint of the year for Marin families who enjoy fun, food and frolic with all proceeds going to the most worthy of causes. As a greater inducement for you to visit our neighborhood — our grape festival specials will be just an added pleasant experience and we urge you to spend what you save at the Grape Festival.

A TIP FROM DOUGLAS DRAKE

The Grape Festival is one of Marin's most popular events. Traffic is sometimes heavy. You might prefer to do your heavy food shopping Thursday and Friday.
